

TWO MOTORISTS ARE INJURED IN HEAD-ON CRASH

Two motorists were injured seriously at 10:05 o'clock Wednesday night on the Goldenville road, a mile east of the Biglerville road, when their automobiles collided head-on and were demolished. The injured are:

Francis E. Fogle, 24, also of Gettysburg, R. 3, fracture of the right kneecap, lacerations of the face and contusions.

Crash In Middle Of Road

State police of the Gettysburg substation said Fogle was driving east in a 1935 Ford and Hankey was traveling west in a 1938 Plymouth. They met head-on in the center of the highway, police said.

Several minutes after the accident another motorist found the two cars in the road. Hankey still in his car, and Fogle, despite the broken kneecap, walking around. State police said he was standing at the side of his car when they arrived. The accident occurred less than a quarter of a mile from Hankey's home. Neither driver could explain the accident, police said. Both were alone in their automobiles.

Damage to the Fogle car was estimated at $225 and to Hankey's car at $250. Fogle is employed by Paul Plank, Gettysburg garbage collector. Hankey is also a garbage collector.

Truck Strikes Car

An automobile operated by E. J. Clapsaddle, 56, of Gettysburg, R. 1, traveling south on the Emmitsburg road at 5:50 a. m. today, was struck in the rear by a K.U.K. automobile carrier from Lykens, Pa., operated by Owen Schlegel, 27, of Herndon, star route, Pa., according to another state police report.

Police said Clapsaddle was traveling south about three and a half miles from Gettysburg. Near the Panorama inn he started to make a left turn into a private roadway, turned to the right again, and was struck by the truck. He suffered a laceration of the right leg below the knee. He drove to Gettysburg in a borrowed automobile and was treated by Dr. John J. Knox.

Damage to Clapsaddle's car was estimated at $400. The truck damage was placed at $100.

LOCAL GRADUATE DIES ON MONDAY

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 3 (AP) — Rev. Dr. George S. Bowers, 91, former president of the Lutheran Synod of Virginia, died here Monday at the home of his son, George H. Bowers.

He had been in failing health since the death of his wife, Mrs. Frances A. D. Bowers, 90, on October 7, the eve of their 65th wedding anniversary.

Dr. Bowers was a native of Frederick county, Md., and had held pastorates in Grafton, Va., Upper Merion, Pa., Hagerstown, and Baltimore, and at Winchester. His last assignment was as supply pastor in Washington, D. C.

He graduated from Gettysburg college in 1880 and attended the Lutheran Theological seminary the following two years.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree at Roanoke college, Salem, and was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. Besides being president of the Lutheran Synod of Virginia for six years, Dr. Bowers was one time secretary of the Maryland Synod.

Surviving him are a son, George Hubert Bowers of Norfolk; a brother, Dr. John C. Bowers, Catonsville; a sister, Mrs. Lella Grove of Baldwin, Long Island, N. Y.; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

"Sesqui" Committee To Meet Tonight

The general committee for the observance of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Adams county and chairmen of all sub-committees have been asked to attend a meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the court house.

Plans will be advanced for observance of the county's sesqui-centennial next year. Tentatively, the actual anniversary in January will be observed by clubs, organizations, churches and other groups with a more elaborate two or three-day celebration in the latter part of next September.

MOUNT HOLDS "HOMECOMING" OVER WEEK-END

Mount Saint Mary's college, near Emmitsburg, will hold its first fall homecoming in ten years over the week-end.

Dedication of the new gymnasium at the college will be among the features of the homecoming week-end. The new gym, a gift of the alumni association, will be formally turned over to the college on Sunday morning. Eaton F. Chalkley, Washington, president of the alumni association, will make the presentation and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of the college, will accept the structure.

The homecoming activities will start Saturday morning with registration in the Administration building. At 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the alumni will be guests of the college at the football game between Shippensburg and the Mountaineers on Echo field.

Prevue of Cagers

Following the game a meeting of alumni chapter presidents with Monsignor Sheridan will be held at the college. An alumni banquet is scheduled for 6 p. m. Saturday in Bradley Hall.

Among the speakers are: A. J. Diebold, Pittsburgh industrialist and captain of the 1896 football team at Mount Saint Mary's; Cletus Keating, New York, maritime lawyer, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Casey, of New York.

Following the alumni dinner the guests will be given a prelude of the forthcoming Mount Saint Mary's basketball team with Coach John McMahon sending his varsity quint against an alumni group headed by last year's stars, Pete Clark and Mike Russo. Later movies of both Mount and Notre Dame football games will be shown. Saturday's program will close with an open house in the gymnasium conducted by the athletic staff.

Mass and breakfast Sunday morning will precede the dedication of the new gymnasium.

REPORTS BIKE STOLEN

LARGE BARN IS LEVELED BY FIRE

A large barn on the farm of Daniel Fiohr, a quarter of a mile north of Ottanna, on the Fairfield-Cashtown road, burned to the ground shortly before noon today. Origin of the fire was undetermined. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

Fire companies from Cashtown and Fairfield were called but were unable to save the building. A chicken house at the side of the barn, and 100 chickens, were destroyed, with the contents of the barn, which included the summer's crops of hay and grain. A farm wagon at the side of the barn was also destroyed.

A hog pen and another chicken house near the barn were scorched but were not destroyed. A tractor was run out of the burning building, and other farm tools were saved. No stock, except the chickens, was lost.

The farm was formerly known as the Curtis Biessecker farm, and was purchased by Mr. Fiohr about five years ago. The fire was discovered about 11:15 a. m.

LEAGUE NEARS $50,000 GOAL FOR MUSIC DEPT.

The 3,500 members of the Women's General League of Gettysburg college raised $10,000 for the music department at Gettysburg college during the last year, according to reports presented at this morning's sessions of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the league being held here today and Friday. The convention met today at Christ Lutheran church with 178 present.

Within the next year, the group hopes to raise an additional $10,000 to complete the $50,000 goal they have set for the music department of the college. So far $40,244.81 has been raised by the women for this project.

Completion of the $50,000 fund, and increasing the membership from 3,599 to 5,000 were recommended as two projects for the coming year by Mrs. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, president of the league. She also recommended that the membership give full support to the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal of the United Lutheran church to raise $6,000,000 for the various colleges and seminaries connected with the church.

Gifts Total $205,000

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. C. McCartney, showed that receipts of the league during the past year totaled $14,000.70. General fund receipts totaled $12,677.52, including $9,826.60 receipts from sub-leagues and $2,850.92 balance from last October. Income for the general expenses fund totaled $1,323.18. General expenses totaled $792.15 while expenditures from the general fund including $10,000 given for the music fund, $200 toward a flag for the college chapel, $250 for a cross for the chapel and $600 final payment on refinishing rooms at the college, totaled $11,460.90. The total balance remaining is $1,747.65.

Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, in her report as historian, said that so far, during the 38 years of its existence, the league has given $205,000 toward the college here.

Banquet Tonight

Six $100 donations to the general fund were announced at this morning's meeting. It was also announced that the special fund to send the president of the Student Christian association of Gettysburg college to a presidents' school in New York was oversubscribed.

This afternoon a number of speakers presented talks on various activities. Among the featured events of the afternoon was a panel discussion on "Attuned To The Infinite through Christian Contacts on the Campus," held by Gettysburg college faculty members.

The annual League banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Bendersville Fire Company Elects

Those elected were: Robert Orner, president; Roy R. Starnier, vice president; Carl Taylor, recording secretary; Charles Bretzman, financial secretary, and Roland Kime, treasurer.

Members voted to place a Christmas tree on the square for the holiday season.

There will be no meeting in December, the next meeting being scheduled for Wednesday, January 4.

3 NAMED TO SYNOD GROUP

Three Adams countians will be among the 160 delegates of the Central Pennsylvania Synod at the Eastern regional Christian Higher Education Year Appeal conference to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday in the Holy Communion Lutheran church, Philadelphia.

The countians who have been designated by the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, president of the synod, to act as members of the synodical CHEYA committee include: Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Bendersville; Rev. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford, and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh, York street.

Dr. Paul W. Dieckman, of Wagner College, Staten Island, will be in charge of the Philadelphia conference at which 600 representatives from the New York-New England Synod, Pittsburgh Synod, Central Pennsylvania Synod, the Ministerium and the Maryland Synod will be present.

Delegates to the conference will conduct a workshop on the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal program by which the United Lutheran Church in America will seek to raise $6,000,000 in six days among 4,080 congregations for 14 colleges and ten seminaries. Both the local seminary and the college will receive grants from the CHEYA fund.

13 INJURED IN 23 ACCIDENTS DURING MONTH

State police of the Gettysburg substation reported today 23 automobile accident investigations during October, compared with 27 in September and 25 in October, 1948. Three persons died as the result of two accidents last month. There were no fatalities in September or October, 1948.

Thirteen persons were injured in last month's accidents, compared with 22 in September and 14 in October a year ago. Property damage for October, 1949, was estimated at $8,835; for September, 1949, at $12,585, and for October, 1948, at $18,417.

The fatalities last month included the deaths of two men as the result of a collision near Cashtown, in which one was fatally injured, and the death of a pedestrian struck by a car in Midway.

18 Are Arrested

Eighteen arrests were made as the result of accident investigations. There was a total of 109 traffic arrests during the month, and 30 arrests on criminal charges.

More accidents in October occurred between 2 and 3 p. m. than during other hours, the monthly report showed. Most of the accidents occurred on Fridays and most of the mishaps were on Route 15. There were four on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road and three on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road.

State police made 373 patrols during the month, covering 16,155 miles by automobile, 150 miles by police motorcycle and 3,050 miles in other cars. Thirty-two criminal investigations were made; three investigations were made for state departments, three for other departments and 23 accidents were investigated. Two hundred and sixteen hours were spent on criminal work; 1,089 hours on traffic patrols; 1,009 hours on station duty and 206 hours on special assignments.

State police gave 11 driver's examinations, in which the report said, four passed and seven failed. One stolen car was recovered and $5 worth of other property was found.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

The November meeting of the directors of the Adams County Crippled Children's society will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, according to notices issued by the secretary, Miss Christina Cunningham.

Dr. Sundermyer To Address Guild Group

Conditions in Germany as he saw them during a visit last summer will be the topic of a talk by Dr. William K. Sundermyer, professor of German at Gettysburg college, before the members of the Women's Service Guild of the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the church.

Circle No. 4 of the Guild is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Mrs. William M. Lott and Mrs. W. Clayton Jester are the co-chairmen.

LITTLESTOWN

ALPHA FIREMEN HOLD MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

The November meeting of Alpha Fire company No. 1 was held Tuesday evening in the fire hall with President Bernard Selby presiding, and Harry W. Badders presenting the secretary's report. George Froun-felter and George Wherley were nominated for membership while Earl Weaver was elected to membership. Bills were ordered paid amounting to $101.90. Receipts of the evening were $2. A bill from the Littlestown Machine company, John Bucher, proprietor, for repairs, was marked paid as a donation to the company.

Announcement was made of the annual memorial service by the Adams County Firemen's association, Sunday, November 20, at 2 p. m., in Fiohr's Lutheran church, McKnightstown. Four members of the local company who died during the past year will be recognized at this service. They are George Julius, John M. Feeser, Howard G. Blocher and Stewart Jacobs.

A request by the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity to assist in the expense of re-decorating the fire hall, previously discussed and tabled, was re-considered. After discussion, it was tabled indefinitely.

Discuss Uniform Rank

The uniform rank was again discussed. There will be a meeting of the former members as well as other interested members in the fire hall Thursday, November 10, at 7:30 p. m. A new social committee consisting of Guy Conover, Richard Mum-mert and Charles Randall was appointed for the next three months. (Please Turn to Page 2)

CITES PROBLEM OF GERMANS IN FARMING AREAS

German farmers, some of whom have their farms of 30 or 40 acres divided into 50 or 60 different plots, some miles apart, are resisting American urges that for more efficient farming they work out some method of getting their farms together into one continuous section.

H. C. Fetterolf, chief of agricultural education for the state Department of Agriculture, related to the vocational education and veterans agriculture teachers of Franklin and Adams counties and their wives, meeting Wednesday night at New Oxford, details concerning German agriculture discovered during his recent visit there as an adviser from the American government.

Fetterolf was sent to Germany upon the invitation of Dr. Leopold Huber, superintendent of schools in Bavaria, who visited Adams county and other sections of the eastern United States last May to study agricultural education methods here.

Cites Inefficiency

Fetterolf, in reporting the "argument" between American advisers and the German farmers over the "plot" system of farming, said the Germans argue that having plots at different places prevents the possible loss of an entire crop. The American claim that the plots help to make German farming inefficient because much of the time of the farmer is used in the unproductive effort of walking to and from the various widely-scattered parts of his farm. In addition, Americans claim, the widely-scattered plots prevent use of modern machinery in farming.

Fetterolf's principal work in Germany was advising in the setting up of schools for agriculture teachers and advising the Germans in the establishment of a program of agricultural education.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

"The newspaper is one of the most powerful forces in the molding of public opinion and in influencing the buying habits of the general public," declared C. J. French, advertising manager for the Chevrolet Motor Division of the General Motors Corporation, in an address at the 25th anniversary convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, at Harrisburg, last month.

"To the average American family it brings knowledge of domestic and foreign affairs and provides a showcase where the wares of American business may be displayed and sold in the family circle where buying decisions are made. The next step is from the home to the merchant's place of business where the products are transferred to the buyer."

"Newspaper advertising, therefore, becomes of major importance in the process of distribution and sales management. It has always done its best job in times when goods have to be sold. This is largely because the manufacturer can talk to the consumer in retail selling language and exert a powerful pressure on the prospect to buy his goods directly and NOW."

"We are again entering that era when selling is vitally important to the economy of the nation. No longer can business wait for the customer to come to him and stand in line for his product. Ten years of over-demand and under-production have made it necessary for business to rebuild and re-train its selling organizations. There is a dearth of salesmanship today and yet people are waiting to be sold."

"Today, the daily and weekly newspapers of America have a great selling opportunity. Their advertising columns offer business a direct selling medium which can bridge the gap and help keep factory wheels turning. We find that newspapers offer the quickest way to reach the customer. With an important message we are able to meet fast changing competitive conditions through the columns of the newspapers quickly and efficiently." (Please Turn to Page 8)

Man Fined $25 For Overloaded Truck

Norman F. Smith, Royalton Center, N. Y., paid a fine of $25 and costs Wednesday night to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge of overloading his truck. Lloyd Shockey, Smithsburg, R. 2, Md., was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace F. E. Coulson, York Springs, on a speeding charge.

May Be Snow In Air Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Better dust off the old snow shovel and check the skid chains in the trunk of the family car. The weatherman said today snow flurries can be expected in the western portion of Pennsylvania this afternoon and tonight.

Not a blizzard, mind you, but snow just the same.

Eastern Pennsylvania is in for cloudy skies and light showers with a vague possibility the rain drops may turn into snow flakes by this evening.

And it might not be a bad idea, the weatherman said, to check the anti-freeze in your car. The mercury may drop below the freezing point tonight, especially in the mountains.

EMMITSBURG'S VFW POST HAS XMAS PROJECT

Approximately 40 members attended the meeting of Memorial post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Emmitsburg, Wednesday evening, at which Weldon Shearer, Union Bridge Memorial post commander and deputy chairman on Americanism, was the guest of honor.

Letters were read from Shearer on "Americanism," in which he revealed what is being done in America to combat Communism and recommending the appointment of a post member as Americanism chairman to work with him and 100 other similar chairmen in Maryland in the program, which will include showing pictures and giving lectures in schools.

Plan Gifts for Vets

Members voted unanimously to take Christmas gifts and spend several hours with mental and tubercular patients at the Newton Baker Veterans' hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., on Christmas Day. It was voted to raise $300 for the project. Gifts will include candy bars, cigarettes, pocket story books, handkerchiefs and socks, arranged in individual gift packets.

The Christmas project at the hospital has been undertaken by six posts of District 7, and Emmitsburg members will join with the other posts in a motor caravan to Martinsburg on Christmas Day.

The Home Improvement committee recommended the securing of information on gaining more space in the club room and suggested the purchase of smaller tables and more chairs.

Following the meeting a pork and sauerkraut supper was served by members of the Auxiliary of the post.

12 COUNTIANS AT YORK MEET

A delegation of 12 Adams county extension clubbers attended the district convention Wednesday evening at York. Seven counties were represented.

Following registration a discussion, "The Senior Extension Program in Pennsylvania," was conducted under the direction of C. P. Lang of Pennsylvania State college. Following the banquet there were musical numbers and a report from each county. Three workshops were held. They were: "Recreational Workshop," with H. B. White, Jr., of State College, in charge; "The President's Job," directed by John David Kilmore, and "The Secretary's Job" under Geraldine Hindenach. The evening ended with a session of folk dancing.

Included in the Adams county group were: Myles Starnier, Rita Crouse, Kathryn Bucher, Richard Waybright, Luther Mathias, Teresa Murren, Tom Murren, Simon Murren, Paul Lease, Roland Kime and county extensive representatives, Mary Jane Mickey and Ira Dan-mire.

Two Students Get Promotions In ROTC

Granville F. Miller and Luther L. Dietrich, students at Gettysburg college, have been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the Air Reserve Officers Training Corps, according to an announcement today by Lt. Col. Thomas E. Peddy, commanding officer of the air arm at the college.

The promotions were made on the basis of academic proficiency and leadership ability, and are effective as of September 22. Both men are seniors at the college. Dietrich is commander of Squadron B, college ROTC, and Miller is flight leader of Squadron A. Upon the completion of their year's work in the air science department, they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve.

BOARD ORDERS FULL PROBE OF HEALTH MENACE

The board of health, at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night in the office of Dr. Harrison F. Harbach, directed Health Officer Eugene S. Sickles to make an investigation of an "alleged health menace in the Highland avenue section, and take action if necessary to remedy the condition."

W. Preston Hull, president of the board, presided. Other members present included Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, George E. Burgen, and Atty. Eugene R. Hartman. Dr. Harbach was unable to be present because of illness. Mr. Sickles, secretary of the board, was also present.

Complaints from residents of the Highland avenue section allege that lack of drainage allows water to collect, sometimes to a depth of three feet, back of the Redding property.

Submits Health Program

At the organization meeting of the board in October, it was recommended that a preliminary program be presented for organized discussion. Dr. Harbach was appointed to draft the program, and his report was presented Wednesday night. It included proper garbage disposal, checking of possible stream pollution, elimination of outhouses, maintenance of proper drainage and liaison with the mosquito control committee.

Ordinances relating to garbage disposal were discussed by the board, including use of proper containers, elimination of disposal of garbage in alleys or streams, and proper methods of collection.

Probe Garbage Violations

The health officer was directed to investigate violations and to order persons throwing garbage in alleys or streams to discontinue the practice.

After a discussion of the drainage problem in the Highland park area, the board left other points of the program recommended by Dr. Harbach for discussion at future meetings.

The board recommended that all complaints of a health nature be made to the health officer or submitted in writing to the health board.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. E. R. POTTS

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Potts, 81, a former resident of Gettysburg, died Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Gilbert Reen, State College.

She was born at Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, on October 18, 1868, a daughter of the late Henry A. and Lilla (Lutz) Richard. She was a member of the Potstown Presbyterian church.

Her first husband, C. Frank Duden, died in 1903, and her second husband, Dr. Charles S. Potts, died in 1929.

Surviving are her daughter; three grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Alvin D. Beyer, Norristown.

TWO MOTORISTS ARE INJURED IN HEAD-ON CRASH

Two motorists were injured seriously at 10:05 o'clock Wednesday night on the Goldenville road, a mile east of the Biglerville road, when their automobiles collided head-on and were demolished. The injured are:

Francis E. Fogle, 24, also of Gettysburg R. 3, fracture of the right kneecap, lacerations of the face and contusions.

Crash In Middle Of Road

State police of the Gettysburg substation said Fogle was driving east in a 1935 Ford and Hankey was traveling west in a 1938 Plymouth. They met head-on in the center of the highway, police said.

Several minutes after the accident another motorist found the two cars in the road, Hankey still in his car, and Fogle, despite the broken kneecap, walking around. State police said he was standing at the side of his car when they arrived. The accident occurred less than a quarter of a mile from Hankey's home. Neither driver could explain the accident, police said. Both were alone in their automobiles.

Damage to the Fogle car was estimated at $225 and to Hankey's car at $250. Fogle is employed by Paul Plank, Gettysburg garbage collector. Hankey is also a garbage collector.

Truck Strikes Car

An automobile operated by E. J. Clapsaddle, 56, of Gettysburg R. 1, traveling south on the Emmitsburg road at 5:50 a. m. today, was struck in the rear by a K.U.K. automobile carrier from Lykens, Pa., operated by Owen Schlegel, 27, of Herndon, star route, Pa., according to another state police report.

Police said Clapsaddle was traveling south about three and a half miles from Gettysburg. Near the Panorama inn he started to make a left turn into a private roadway, turned to the right again, and was struck by the truck. He suffered a laceration of the right leg below the knee. He drove to Gettysburg in a borrowed automobile and was treated by Dr. John J. Knox.

Damage to Clapsaddle's car was estimated at $400. The truck damage was placed at $100.

Among the speakers are: A. J. Diebold, Pittsburgh industrialist and captain of the 1896 football team at Mount Saint Mary's; Cletus Keating, New York, maritime lawyer, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Casey, of New York.

Following the alumni dinner the guests will be given a preview of the forthcoming Mount Saint Mary's basketball team with Coach John McMahon sending his varsity quintet against an alumni group headed by last year's stars, Pete Clark and Mike Russo. Later movies of both Mount and Notre Dame football games will be shown. Saturday's program will close with an open house in the gymnasium conducted by the athletic staff.

Mass and breakfast Sunday morning will precede the dedication of the new gymnasium.

REPORTS BIKE STOLEN

LARGE BARN IS LEVELED BY FIRE

A large bank barn on the farm of Daniel Flohr, a quarter of a mile north of Orlanna, on the Fairfield-Cashtown road, burned to the ground shortly before noon today. Origin of the fire was undetermined. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

Fire companies from Cashtown and Fairfield were called but were unable to save the building. A chicken house at the side of the barn, and 100 chickens, were destroyed, with the contents of the barn, which included the summer's crops of hay and grain. A farm wagon at the side of the barn was also destroyed.

A hog pen and another chicken house near the barn were scorched but were not destroyed. A tractor was run out of the burning building, and other farm tools were saved. No stock, except the chickens, was lost.

The farm was formerly known as the Curtis Biesecker farm, and was purchased by Mr. Flohr about five years ago. The fire was discovered about 11:15 a. m.

LEAGUE NEARS $50,000 GOAL FOR MUSIC DEPT.

The 3,500 members of the Woman's General League of Gettysburg college raised $10,000 for the music department at Gettysburg college during the last year, according to reports presented at this morning's sessions of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the league being held here today and Friday. The convention met today at Christ Lutheran church with 178 present.

Within the next year, the group hopes to raise an additional $10,000 to complete the $50,000 goal they have set for the music department of the college. So far $40,244.81 has been raised by the women for this project.

Completion of the $50,000 fund, and increasing the membership from 3,599 to 5,000 were recommended as two projects for the coming year by Mrs. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, president of the league. She also recommended that the membership give full support to the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal of the United Lutheran church to raise $6,000,000 for the various colleges and seminaries connected with the church.

Gifts Total $205,000

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. C. McCartney, showed that receipts of the league during the past year totalled $14,000.70. General fund receipts totalled $12,877.52, including $8,826.60 receipts from sub-leagues and $2,850.92 balance from last October. Income for the general expenses fund totalled $1,323.18. General expenses totalled $792.15 while expenditures from the general fund including $10,000 given for the music fund, $200 toward a flag for the college chapel, $250 for a cross for the chapel and $600 final payment on refinishing rooms at the college, totalled $11,460.90. The total balance remaining is $1,747.65.

Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, in her report as historian, said that so far, during the 38 years of its existence, the league has given $205,000 toward the college here.

Banquet Tonight

Six $100 donations to the general fund were announced at this morning's meeting. It was also announced that the special fund to send the president of the Student Christian association of Gettysburg college to a presidents' school in New York was oversubscribed.

This afternoon a number of speakers presented talks on various activities. Among the featured events of the afternoon was a panel discussion on "Attuned To The Infinite through Christian Contacts on the Campus," held by Gettysburg college faculty members.

The annual league banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Bendersville Fire Company Elects

Those elected were: Robert Orner, president; Roy R. Starnes, vice president; Carl Taylor, recording secretary; Charles Bretzman, financial secretary, and Roland Kline, treasurer.

Members voted to place a Christmas tree on the square for the holiday season.

There will be no meeting in December, the next meeting being scheduled for Wednesday, January 4.

3 NAMED TO SYNOD GROUP

Three Adams countians will be among the 160 delegates of the Central Pennsylvania Synod at the Eastern regional Christian Higher Education Year Appeal conference to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday in the Holy Communion Lutheran church, Philadelphia.

The countians who have been designated by the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putnam, president of the synod, to act as members of the synodical CHEYA committee include: Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Bendersville; Rev. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford; and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh, York street.

Dr. Paul W. Dieckman, of Wagner College, Staten Island, will be in charge of the Philadelphia conference at which 600 representatives from the New York-New England Synod, Pittsburgh Synod, Central Pennsylvania Synod, the Ministerium and the Maryland Synod will be present.

Delegates to the conference will conduct a workshop on the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal program by which the United Lutheran Church in America will seek to raise $6,000,000 in six days among 4,080 congregations for 14 colleges and ten seminaries. Both the local seminary and the college will receive grants from the CHEYA fund.

13 INJURED IN 23 ACCIDENTS DURING MONTH

State police of the Gettysburg substation reported today 23 automobile accident investigations during October, compared with 27 in September and 25 in October, 1948. Three persons died as the result of two accidents last month. There were no fatalities in September or October, 1948.

Thirteen persons were injured in last month's accidents, compared with 22 in September and 14 in October a year ago. Property damage for October, 1949, was estimated at $8,835; for September, 1949, at $12,585, and for October, 1948, at $18,417.

The fatalities last month included the deaths of two men as the result of a collision near Cashtown, in which one was fatally burned, and the death of a pedestrian struck by a car in Midway.

18 Are Arrested

Eighteen arrests were made as the result of accident investigations. There was a total of 109 traffic arrests during the month, and 30 arrests on criminal charges.

More accidents in October occurred between 2 and 3 p. m. than during other hours, the monthly report showed. Most of the accidents occurred on Fridays and most of the mishaps were on Route 15. There were four on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road and three on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road.

State police made 373 patrols during the month, covering 16,155 miles by automobile, 150 miles by police motorcycle and 3,050 miles in other cars. Thirty-two criminal investigations were made; three investigations were made for state department, three for other departments and 23 accidents were investigated. Two hundred and sixteen hours were spent on criminal work; 1,089½ hours on traffic patrols; 1,009½ hours on station duty and 206½ hours on special assignments.

State police gave 11 driver's examinations, in which, the report said, four passed and seven failed. One stolen car was recovered and $5 worth of other property was found.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

The November meeting of the directors of the Adams County Crippled Children's society will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, according to notices issued by the secretary, Miss Christina Cunningham.

U.S. Court Says 11 Convicted Reds May Be Bailed From Pen

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled today that the 11 top American Communists convicted of conspiracy may be released in bail pending appeal of their case.

The court ruled that seven could be released in $20,000 bail each and four in $30,000 bail apiece. The government originally asked that their total bail be set at $1,000,000.

An opinion handed down by Judges Learned Hand, Thomas W. Swan and Jerome N. Frank said that bail was being set because the government "conceded that the appeal herein raises a 'substantial question.'"

Bail of $30,000 was set for Eugene Dennis, John B. Williamson, Jacob Stachel, and Irving Potash.

A $20,000 bail was fixed for Robert G. Thompson, Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Harry Winston, John Gates,

CITES PROBLEM OF GERMANS IN FARMING AREAS

German farmers, some of whom have their farms of 30 or 40 acres divided into 50 or 60 different plots, some miles apart, are resisting American arguments that for more efficient farming they work out some method of getting their farms together into one continuous section.

H. C. Fetterolf, chief of agricultural education for the state Department of Agriculture, related to the vocational education and veterans agriculture teachers of Franklin and Adams counties and their wives, meeting Wednesday night at New Oxford, details concerning German agriculture discovered during his recent visit there as an adviser from the American government.

Fetterolf was sent to Germany upon the invitation of Dr. Leopold Huber, superintendent of schools in Bavaria, who visited Adams county and other sections of the eastern United States last May to study agricultural education methods here.

Cites Inefficiency

Fetterolf, in reporting the "argument" between American advisers and the German farmers over the "plot" system of farming, said the Germans argue that having plots at different places prevents the possible loss of an entire crop. The American claim that the plots help to make German farming inefficient because much of the time of the farmer is used in the unproductive effort of walking to and from the various widely-scattered parts of his farm. In addition, Americans claim, the widely-scattered plots prevent use of modern machinery in farming.

Fetterolf's principal work in Germany was advising in the setting up of schools for agriculture teachers and advising the Germans in the establishment of a program of agriculture.

Here And There News Collected At Random

"The newspaper is one of the most powerful forces in the molding of public opinion and in influencing the buying habits of the general public," declared C. J. French, advertising manager for the Chevrolet Motor Division of the General Motors Corporation, in an address at the 25th anniversary convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, at Harrisburg, last month.

"To the average American family it brings knowledge of domestic and foreign affairs and provides a showcase where the wares of American business may be displayed and sold in the family circle where buying decisions are made. The next step is from the home to the merchant's place of business where the products are transferred to the buyer."

"Newspaper advertising, therefore, becomes of major importance in the process of distribution and sales management. It has always done its best job in times when goods have to be sold. This is largely because the manufacturer can talk to the consumer in retail selling language and exert a powerful pressure on the prospect to buy his goods directly and NOW."

Discuss Uniform Rank

The uniform rank was again discussed. There will be a meeting of the former members as well as other interested members in the fire hall Thursday, November 10, at 7:30 p. m.

A new social committee consisting of Guy Conover, Richard Mumert and Charles Randall was appointed for the next three months. (Please Turn to Page 2)

Man Fined $25 For Overloaded Truck

Norman F. Smith, Royalton Center, N. Y., paid a fine of $25 and costs Wednesday night to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge of overloading his truck. Lloyd Shockey, Smithburg R. 2, Md., was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace P. E. Coulson, York Springs, on a speeding charge.

May Be Snow In Air Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Better dust off the old snow shovel and check the skid chains in the trunk of the family car. The weatherman said today snow flurries can be expected in the western portion of Pennsylvania this afternoon and tonight.

Not a blizzard, mind you, but snow just the same.

Eastern Pennsylvania is in for cloudy skies and light showers with a vague possibility the rain drops may turn into snow flakes by this evening.

And it might not be a bad idea, the weatherman said, to check the anti-freeze in your car. The mercury may drop below the freezing point tonight, especially in the mountains.

EMMITSBURG'S VFW POST HAS XMAS PROJECT

Approximately 40 members attended the meeting of Memorial post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Emmitsburg, Wednesday evening, at which Weldon Shealer, Union Bridge Memorial post commander and deputy chairman on Americanism, was the guest of honor.

Letters were read from Shealer on "Americanism," in which he revealed what is being done in America to combat Communism and recommending the appointment of a post member as Americanism chairman to work with him and 100 other similar chairmen in Maryland in the program, which will include showing pictures and giving lectures in schools.

Post Commander Wales Rightnow named Eugene Kraemer as the post chairman for the campaign.

Plan Gifts for Vets

Members voted unanimously to take Christmas gifts and spend several hours with mental and tubercular patients at the Newton Baker Veterans' hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., on Christmas Day. It was voted to raise $300 for the project. Gifts will include candy bars, cigarettes, pocket story books, handkerchiefs and socks, arranged in individual gift packets.

The Christmas project at the hospital has been undertaken by six posts of District 7, and Emmitsburg members will join with the other posts in a motor caravan to Martinsburg on Christmas Day.

The Home Improvement committee recommended the securing of information on gaining more space in the club room and suggested the purchase of smaller tables and more chairs.

Following the meeting a pork and sauerkraut supper was served by members of the Auxiliary of the post.

A delegation of 12 Adams county extension clubbers attended the district convention Wednesday evening at York. Seven counties were represented.

Following registration a discussion, "The Senior Extension Program in Pennsylvania," was conducted under the direction of C. P. Lang of Pennsylvania State college. Following the banquet there were musical numbers and a report from each county. Three workshops were held. They were: "Recreational Workshop," with H. B. White, Jr., of State college, in charge; "The President's Job," directed by John David Kilmore, and "The Secretary's Job" under Geraldine Hindenach. The evening ended with a session of folk dancing.

Included in the Adams county group were: Myles Starnes, Rita Crouse, Kathryn Bucher, Richard Waybright, Luther Mathias, Teresa Murren, Tom Murren, Simon Murren, Paul Lease, Roland Kline and county extensive representatives, Mary Jane Mickey and Ira Dunmire.

Two Students Get Promotions In ROTC

Granville F. Miller and Luther L. Dietrich, students at Gettysburg college, have been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the Air Reserve Officers Training Corps, according to an announcement today by Lt. Col. Thomas E. Peddy, commanding officer of the air arm at the college.

The promotions were made on the basis of academic proficiency and leadership ability, and are effective as of September 22. Both men are seniors at the college. Dietrich is commander of Squadron B, college ROTC, and Miller is flight leader of Squadron A.

Upon the completion of their year's work in the air science department, they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve.

BOARD ORDERS FULL PROBE OF HEALTH MENACE

The board of health, at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night in the office of Dr. Harrison P. Harbach, directed Health Officer Eugene S. Sickles to make an investigation of an alleged health menace in the Highland avenue section, and take action if necessary to remedy the condition.

W. Preston Hull, president of the board, presided. Other members present included Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, George E. Burgner, and Atty. Eugene R. Hartman. Dr. Harbach was unable to be present because of illness. Mr. Sickles, secretary of the board, was also present.

Complaints from residents of the Highland avenue section allege that lack of drainage allows water to collect, sometimes to a depth of three feet, back of the Redding property.

Submits Health Program

At the organization meeting of the board in October, it was recommended that a preliminary program be presented for organized discussion. Dr. Harbach was appointed to draft the program, and his report was presented Wednesday night. It included proper garbage disposal, checking of possible stream pollution, elimination of outhouses, maintenance of proper drainage and liaison with the mosquito control committee.

Ordinances relating to garbage disposal were discussed by the board, including use of proper containers, elimination of disposal of garbage in alleys or streams, and proper methods of collection.

Probe Garbage Violations

The health officer was directed to investigate violations and to order persons throwing garbage in alleys or streams to discontinue the practice.

After a discussion of the drainage problem in the Highland park area, the board left other points of the program recommended by Dr. Harbach for discussion at future meetings.

The board recommended that all complaints of a health nature be made to the health officer or submitted in writing to the health board.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. E. R. POTTS

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Potts, 81, a former resident of Gettysburg, died Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Gilbert Reen, State College.

She was born at Pine Grove, Schuylkill county, on October 18, 1868, a daughter of the late Henry A. and Lila (Lutz) Richard. She was a member of the Pottstown Presbyterian church.

Her first husband, C. Frank Duden, died in 1903, and her second husband, Dr. Charles S. Potts, died in 1929.

Surviving are her daughter; three grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Alvin D. Beyer, Norristown.

Funeral services Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Koch funeral home, State College, with interment in Mt. Zion cemetery, Pottstown, Saturday at 3 p. m. Please omit flowers.

Pays $2 Fine For Disorderly Conduct

Borough police, at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, arrested John Hanna, Lock Haven, Pa., on Chambersburg street on a disorderly conduct charge. He was released later by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on payment of a fine of $2 and a promise to send the costs of prosecution later.

A war veteran, Hanna said he was a patient at the McGuire veterans' hospital, at Richmond, Va., and had been home on a pass. He was en route to Richmond when he stopped off in Gettysburg Wednesday.

CROWELL RITES HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida B. Crowell, county native who died Saturday morning in Houston, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Dugan funeral home in Bendersville with the Rev. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor, officiating. Interment was made in the Upper Bermudian cemetery. The pallbearers were Kenneth, Vann, Ralph and Vernie Brandt, Calvin Cook and Paul Himes.

Be sure to get your supper Saturday at the York Springs Fire Hall! Chicken corn soup, hot sandwiches, home-made cake and pie, coffee, etc. From 5 to 8 p. m. Also bazaar and food sale. Sponsored by Lutheran Willing workers.

LEFT-WINGERS GET MAULING AT CIO MEET

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—The left-wingers are getting a mauling at the CIO convention in Cleveland. But three years ago they opened the door for what's happening to them now.

The time was November 18, 1946. The place: Atlantic City, N. J. The CIO was holding its conventions there at that time. It was a couple of weeks after the 1946 election in which the Republicans had won control of Congress from the Democrats.

This was the first time since 1932 that the Democrats, who had befriended organized labor, had to play second-fiddle to the Republicans. The CIO didn't know what lay ahead and wanted to keep as much strength as it could.

Criticism Mounted

Further, it needed strength because it was getting set to demand wage increases in 1947.

By November, 1946, strong anti-Communist feeling had begun to build up in this country. The CIO particularly had been singled out for criticism because of the activity of Communists in some of its unions.

The criticism of CIO had grown so strong that the non-Communist leaders in the CIO decided they had to do something. At the same time, they didn't want to split the CIO wide open by a left-right fight. Not at that time, anyway.

Got Quick Vote

So Philip Murray, president of the CIO, set up a special committee of six CIO union presidents. Three of them were anti-Communists. Three were so-called left-wingers, including Ben Gold, head of the Furriers union, and an admitted Communist.

The six-man committee drew up a resolution which said merely that the delegates were opposed to Communist "interference" in the CIO.

Murray indicated he wanted a quick vote, and no talk by saying he expected a "unanimous rising vote." That's what he got, a unanimous vote, joined in by Communists and anti-Communists.

Throwing Reds Out

But how could Gold, one of the top Communists in this country, take part in drawing up such a resolution and voting for it? I got him off the convention floor and asked him.

Gold answered: "To maintain the unity of the CIO and resist attacks of employers and the reactionary Republican machine. If the employers thought the CIO was going to engage in a purge or witch-hunting, they must be disappointed."

Gradually, Murray and anti-Communist leaders in the CIO have moved since 1946 to a position of throwing out the Communist leaders and even leftist-led unions.

At its Cleveland convention yesterday the CIO voted to keep Communists off its executive board.

Rejected Suitor Kills Young Bride

Port Angeles, Wash., Nov. 2 (AP)—A young mother, remarried to her divorced husband only a few hours earlier, was shot and killed in the kitchen of her home Monday night by a rejected suitor, who then took his own life.

Prosecutor Dana E. Harper said Mrs. Winona B. Medley, 24, was slain by Ted Bishop, about 40, in the presence of the woman's four-year-old son.

The little boy ran screaming to neighbors living in a nearby trailer, Harper said, and cried "Bishop's shot mother."

When police arrived at the modest home, they found Mrs. Medley lying on the kitchen floor with a bullet hole between the eyes. Bishop was sprawled a few feet away, shot in the temple.

National Parks' Visitation Gains

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—More visitors entered national parks and other areas administered by the National Park Service the past year than ever before.

The Park Service reported Tuesday the visitor total for the year (October 1 to September 30) was 31,864,180, a gain of eight per cent over last year's high of 29,608,318.

The Great Smoky mountains led the national parks with 1,510,363 visitors, Director Newton B. Drury said.

Other totals for 1949 and 1948 (1949 figure first):

National military parks and cemeteries—Gettysburg, Pa., 659,822 and 640,548.

National battlefield sites—Fort Necessity, Pa., 102,500 and 84,283.

National historic sites—Hopewell Village, Pa. 76,824 and 80,524; Old Philadelphia Custom House, Pa., 27,174 and 25,350.

"ROBBED," CRIES LEO

West Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—"We wuz robbed," yelled Leo (Lippy) Durocher. The New York Giants manager wasn't yelling at an umpire this time. He and his wife, actress Laraine Day, reported to police Monday that someone stole a purse containing $77 in cash and $75 worth of jewelry from a bedroom of their home.

72 COMMUNITIES TO DECIDE ON SUNDAY MOVIES

Harrisburg, Nov. 2 (AP)—Seventy-two communities throughout the state will vote November 8 on the question of whether they want to legalize Sunday movies.

Another community—Dale Borough, Cambria county—will ballot in a special election on a proposal to prohibit the showing of motion pictures on the Sabbath.

Referenda on Sunday sports will also appear on the ballot in New Oxford, Adams county; Sellersville, Bucks county; Millersburg, Dauphin county, and Pen Argyl, Northampton county.

The four localities now do not allow baseball and football to be played on Sundays under laws dating back to colonial days. A fifth place—Jermyn, Lackawanna county—now permits baseball on Sundays but voters there will decide on whether to ban that sport on the Sabbath.

A more recent law gives communities the right every four years to decide whether they want Sunday movies and Sunday sports. Petitions for or against must be signed by a percentage of the voters and approved by the county commissioners. Some of the larger communities now

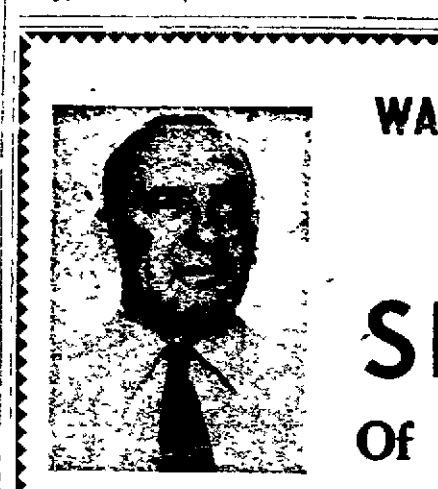

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for the period Wednesday, November 2, through Sunday, November 6:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: Temperatures will average normal to two degrees below normal; milder Wednesday afternoon, somewhat colder Thursday and Friday and warming up Saturday and Sunday; showers likely in eastern New York Wednesday, and throughout the area over the week-end, totaling one-tenth to three-tenths inch.

Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia and western New York: Temperature will average two to four degrees below normal; milder tonight followed by somewhat colder Thursday and Friday; warmer over the week-end, showers likely Friday or Saturday, totaling around one-tenth inch.

OPEN HOUSE FOR OXFORD SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop No. 85, New Oxford, will hold an open house together Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the First Lutheran church, New Oxford. The open house program has been arranged by the Scout committee for prospective Scouts, parents and all former Scouts and Scouters. The program will emphasize a review of events of the past year to recognize outstanding individual achievement and the achievement of the troop and the highlights of the Scout program for the coming year.

The climax of the evening will be centered in the results of an inspection team from district headquarters. This evaluation will be based upon the net worth of the whole Scouting program of Troop 85. The score will be determined by the number of scouts actively engaged in scouting as well as the activity of the scouts themselves. Walter Bietner, district commissioner, and David Dickson, field representative, will make the evaluation. Doors to the meeting will be opened at 6 o'clock. There will be a basket lunch at 6:30, with coffee and dessert to be served by the troop.

The program committee, composed of C. P. Keefer, chairman; Theodore Stough, a parent; William H. Snyder III, senior patrol leader, and Merrill A. Yohe, Sr., scoutmaster, have arranged the following program: Review of exhibits—Scout awards, troop honors; invocation by the Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor of the church; opening ceremony, color guard, pledge of allegiance, introduction of guests, scouts, scoutmasters; Scout demonstrations, Flying Eagle patrol, leader, John Kratzert, first aid, packing for the trail; Beaver patrol, leader, Merrill Yohe, Jr., the compass, respect due and display of the American flag; Recognition of accomplishments, advancements, Rev. A. C. Rohrbaugh; investiture ceremony; evaluation; closing ceremony; presentation of activities for coming year.

BULLETINS

Chicago, Nov. 3 (P)—James S. Kemper quit today as treasurer of the Republican National committee because the GOP's reserve funds have dwindled from $832,000 in 1948 to only $90,000.

He said he is resigning because he feels the GOP should have collected more money or cut expenses and because he wants to get rid of a political policy "handicap" so he can help elect a Republican congress in 1950 and a Republican president in 1952.

Mullins, S. C., Nov. 3 (P)—A seven-year-old blond girl, taken off yesterday in a car by two strange men, showed up at an old farm home today, tired but unharmed.

Deputy Sheriff But Rogers said Jerome Alford, 30, and Hugh Smith, 22, both farmers, had been arrested. No charges have yet been preferred. They were locked in an undisclosed jail.

Manila, Nov. 3 (P)—The Manila Chronicle tonight reported 290 persons were killed or drowned at Kabankalan, Negros Island, in the Philippines' worst typhoon in years on Oct. 31.

The report, the newspaper said, was given to the provincial governor's office by Esteban Abada, a senatorial candidate who came from Kabankalan today. Previously 57 persons officially had been reported killed on Negros and Cebu islands.

Friends may call this evening at the Grove funeral home, Waynesboro, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Nobel Literature Award Is Shelved

Stockholm, Nov. 3 (P)—The Swedish academy decided today to shelve this year's Nobel prize for literature because it was hopelessly deadlocked over four top candidates, including Winston Churchill and the Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce.

The tug-of-war on the prize decision was reported to have been greater than at any other time during the half century in which the 18-member academy has been making the award.

The decision was taken at a brief session this afternoon. It was announced that, as no candidate had been able to obtain the absolute majority necessary, the award will be withheld until 1950.

The Nobel prizes, made in various fields of human affairs, are set up under the will of the late Alfred B. Nobel, the inventor of dynamite. The will calls for the presentation of the awards to the person making the greatest contribution in each of the fields.

TIMELY SHADE TREE FACTS

A wisely selected and carefully planted shade tree in the proper place in the home grounds is one of the best investments in material and labor the home owner can make. It adds at once to the property's intrinsic value and continues to augment in worth through many years ahead. It improves the appearance of buildings and grounds. It imparts a sense of comfort to all who pass by and see it and to all who later enjoy its shade. Next to the soil, a shade tree is the most durable asset of a well planned residence, rural or urban.

When may deciduous shade trees be planted safely?

In the light of widespread tree diseases and insect menaces, which are the best species and varieties to plant?

Is it advisable to move native trees from fields or forests to the home grounds for shade roles?

In answer to these and scores of related questions the editor receives from readers, the following timely planting and care suggestions are offered:

All deciduous trees (those which shed their leaves in the fall) may be planted safely or older specimens moved any time after they are dormant in late October until shortly before buds begin to swell in the spring. In most instances early November, mild periods over winter, or late February and early March are the most favorable times to plant new trees or move older ones.

Experience points to the wisdom of avoiding certain species and genera which now are threatened by diseases. On this basis the elms should be rejected because of the Dutch elm disease. Likewise London planetrees and the American sycamore, also the well-liked Lombardy poplar, should not be included where diseases have already attacked these species.

In some cases it is not unwise to move a partly grown native tree to the home grounds in order to save several years of waiting for a nursery specimen to grow up. But this practice is warranted only where experience, equipment, and the habits of the particular tree justify the risk and expense. Often such moved trees fail the first or second year after moving or struggle along at least partly dwarfed throughout their lives. Use of well rooted nursery specimens has many merits to commend the method, including faster growth, better shape, and greater vigor.

Several steps in planting should be emphasized. First, the roots should not be exposed to sun and air for more than a few minutes before and during planting operations.

If planting cannot be completed at once after the tree is received, it should be heeled in where the soil is moist and the site sheltered.

To provide ample rooting freedom in rich loam, the hole should be dug deeper and larger in other dimensions than actually needed to accommodate the well spread roots. Then this extra surrounding space should be filled with fertile garden or fence row loam.

When the hole is almost filled with loam tramped firmly over and around the roots, the entire mass should be soaked with water to settle the soil into close contact with the feeder roots.

In most cases the top should be cut back soon after planting or before growth starts in the spring in order to balance foliage demands with the interrupted root system.

Taller specimens should be firmly staked to prevent swaying.

Constant attention to moisture requirements over the first summer is an important detail in successful shade tree growing.

The editor invites all shade tree questions readers wish to ask. Write him about your plans and problems.

TO MARK SPECIAL DAY

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh today urged schools to observe November 21 as Mayflower Compact day. A proclamation calling upon Pennsylvanians to observe the day because the Mayflower Compact was the first "Freedom document" signed in America has been issued by Governor Duff, Slaybaugh said.

Chungking, Nov. 3 (P)—Chinese Communists struck further blows today in an apparent attempt to soften the approaches to the Provinces of Szechwan and Kweichow.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of Lunghsun in Hunan Province, 175 miles east of Chungking. This is the nearest point to their capital in which the Nationalists have so far acknowledged the presence of Communist troops.

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh today urged schools to observe November 21 as Mayflower Compact day. Washington, Nov. 3 (P)—John L. Lewis today asked Governor Henry Schricker to renew his effort for a separate coal strike settlement in Indiana—a proposal rejected by the state's mine owners yesterday.

Such a settlement might break the way for ending the nationwide strike of 400,000 United Mine Workers.

Warriors Finish Season Here Friday By Meeting Unbeaten Mechanicsburg In Loop Game

Mechanicsburg high, unbeaten this season but tied by Waynesboro, comes here Friday evening to tangle with the Gettysburg high school Warriors in the final game of the season for the Forney-men.

A win is imperative for the Warriors, who hope to oust Chambersburg from first place and take the 1949 South Penn title when the teams clash November 11 at Mechanicsburg.

Gettysburg, termed by most fans as the surprise team of the season due to remaining in the thick of the battle for first place, was knocked out of the championship race last Friday when it was forced to accept a 0-0 tie with Hershey in a game played in a downpour.

On Wednesday afternoon Coach Forney took his squad to Biglerville for a scrimmage against the Canons. This afternoon only a light tune-up workout is scheduled.

Have Good Record
The Forney-men, now in second place in the conference, could establish the best local record since 1942 by triumphing on Friday. To date Gettysburg has won four games, tied two and lost two. One victory and one defeat were in non-conference games.

Eight Warriors will be finishing up their scholastic football careers. They include Bobby Sachs, Kenny Biessecker, Paul Miller and Martin Myers, all backs; Bill Bucher, Charley Kitzmiller, Leo Kuhn and Charles Caskey, all linemen.

In compiling their unbeaten record Mechanicsburg scored victories as follows: Swatara Township, 26-0; Biglerville, 21-0; Western high, Washington, D. C., 26-6; Hershey, 41-14; New Cumberland, 31-0; Shippenburg, 25-0. The Wildcats of Waynesboro score was 6-6.

Johnny Fredericks has several outstanding players among whom are George Cuthbert, 185, and Don Cornman, 145, backs, and Charley Kolhass, 200-pound center. All are seniors as are Don Badori, end; Jack Jordan, tackle; Charley Miller, Dave Coover and Charles Alexander, backs.

If the Warriors are to close their season with a triumph they will have to give one of their best performances of the season as the Mechanicsburg outfit will undoubtedly be keyed to its finest pitch, fully realizing its title hopes will hinge largely on the outcome of the game.

Many Fans Coming
Almost regardless of weather conditions, a large crowd is anticipated. Hundreds of Wildcat fans will come here, confident their team will retain its unbeaten record.

Carlisle high, still holding an outside chance for the title after winning four straight league contests after being dumped 7-0 by the Warriors, will be host to Chambersburg in another "crucial" game Friday.

Other games, meaningless insofar as championship hopes are concerned, find Shippenburg at Waynesboro, and Hanover at Hershey.

Seek Amateurs For "Sponging"

Salem, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Amateurs with larceny in their hearts and a knowledge of the physical geography of Rockingham Park were sought today as those concerned with "sponging" five horses in the seventh race here October 24.

Most of those interested in seizing and prosecuting the tamperers, who pushed small sponges into the thoroughbred's noses, are convinced there was no intended betting big coup as the wagering on the race was not abnormal.

It was pointed out, however, that the seventh race plays a part in the makeup of the figures used in the numbers pool in this area.

No fewer than six groups have declared themselves in on the search for the person, or persons, concerned in thrusting the sponges, about the size of a small rubber ball, into the animals' noses.

Dr. H. J. Lewis, track veterinarian, was convinced "amateurs" were involved "because the sponges were obviously pushed up by a person's fingers."

The track vet explained a "sharpie" involved in such an illegal deed would use a probe.

Kitzmiller Chosen Honorary Captain

Charley Kitzmiller, star tackle on the Gettysburg high school football team, was elected honorary captain for the 1949 season at a meeting of the squad Wednesday.

Kitzmiller, a six-foot 180-pounder, has been a standout performer for the Warriors all season and is one of the best tackles in the South Penn conference.

He will captain his team in its final game with Mechanicsburg high here Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Denver Nuggets, who opened their National Basketball Association season on Oct. 29, won't play their first game in Denver until nearly a month later. If they haven't won a fair share of games by that time, they might as well stay on the road.

The reason is that the N.B.A. (not to be confused with Abe Greene's boxing outfit) has adopted the bush league system of shifting games all over the map, playing them as parts of doubleheaders in league cities or in smaller non-league towns. Denver, for instance, meets Syracuse in Auburn, N. Y.

A perfectly good place but not a big league city. Leo Seltzer, who maintains a tremendous enthusiasm for his brain child, Roller Derby, says the "blocking" feature which provides most of the roughness and excitement, came into existence when Bill Corum and Chick Meehan saw some informal roughness in a race at the old Hippodrome and decided it resembled football.

SECRET PLAY

The Washington and Yates high school football teams were near the end of their game in Houston, Tex., last week-end when the P. A. announcer advised: "Stand by for a special announcement immediately after the game." The 9,000 fans were left wondering until the final gun sounded, then the announcer's voice boomed out again: "This is the special announcement. Washington has played 12 men on the field the last two minutes of the game."

CLEANING THE CUFF
Tip from Texas says unbeaten Baylor won't have an easy time Saturday against the U. of Texas team, which came mighty close to winning the three games it lost. Princeton claims the smallest pair of football guards in the east in 178-pounders Norman Moore and Alan Clark. Moore also is a candidate for a Phi Beta Kappa key.

St. Joseph, Mo., fans are boosting Christian Brothers high school, winner of 24 straight, for some schoolboy "bowl" game. Catch is it would have to be played within ten days after Thanksgiving.

Delone Freshman Gridders Bow 12-2

The Harrisburg Catholic high school freshman football team defeated the Delone Catholic Freshmen Wednesday night, 12 to 2, at McSherrystown.

Delone took the lead, 2 to 0, on a safety in the first quarter when the Harrisburg center made a bad pass into his end zone.

Harrisburg scored its first touchdown in the second quarter on Phil Clay's 65-yard run, and marked up the other six-pointers in the final period when John Rozman threw a lateral pass to Lawrence Kostelac, who sped 20 yards to the end zone.

BISONS CHOICE OVER BULLETS; PITT GETS NOD

By HERB ALTSCHULL
Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Except for a misplaced three letters we called the turn on that Penn-Pitt game last week. We said: in a tight game, Penn. It was the "enn" that was wrong.

Outside of that it was a good week, 23 right, seven wrong, one tie for .781. The season's average for two weeks shows 130 correct choices, 50 bad ones and 11 ties for an average of .722.

For week number seven: Bucknell at Gettysburg: Two once-beaten central Pennsylvania powers collide here and there isn't much to choose from. Our thought is that Jim Ostendarp is the measure of difference. In a corker, Bucknell, Ohio State at Pittsburgh: There are a number of question marks involved here. Pitt was pretty badly battered in the Penn game, but the Panthers received a tremendous lift from their last-minute victory. Ohio State is tough, but so is Pitt. The call is faint, but it's for a Pitt victory.

Virginia at Pennsylvania: Virginia is unbeaten now and Johnny Papit is returning to Philadelphia where he once starred for Northeast high. Papit has broken all of Bill Dudley's records at Virginia, but he won't be doing any record smashing against rebounding Penn. This one should be easy for Penn.

Penn State at West Virginia: The Penn State mystery is the biggest one in state football circles this season. But it appears that the Lions have at last found themselves. A flock of votes for Penn State.

Temple at Boston university: An upstart Temple eleven may cause a lot of trouble to B.U.'s plot for an undefeated season. But the percentages are in favor of a narrow triumph for Boston university.

Grove City at Juniata: This may be the toughest engagement of the season for once-beaten Juniata. This corner is of the opinion that Mike Dzvonar and company can handle the situation. Juniata.

St. Francis at Gannon (Sunday): We have learned our lesson the hard way, having missed in Gannon games three of four times this season. The call is for another triumph for unbeaten, untied, unscored upon Gannon.

Rider at Wilkes: Wilkes college, improving weekly, meets a dangerous invader from New Jersey. Here's another game that could go either way depending on the breaks. The percentage call is Wilkes.

Villanova at Georgetown (Friday): Villanova is still in the running for a bowl bid despite a 21-19 loss to Tulsa, and Georgetown isn't going to get in the way. Easy for Villanova.

Rutgers at Lafayette: One of these days Lafayette is going to play the ball of which it is capable. That might happen Saturday. But off the record, Rutgers gets the nod.

Also playing:
Thursday: Clarion over Alliance.
Friday: St. Vincent over West Virginia Wesleyan; West Chester over Moravian. (Both St. Vincent and West Chester to remain unbeaten.)

Saturday: Scranton over Albright; Thiel over Allegheny; Bloomsburg over Lycoming; California over Bethany; Carnegie Tech over Marietta; Drexel over Dickinson; East Stroudsburg over Cortland; Edinboro over Mansfield; F. & M. over Ursinus; Akron over Geneva; P.M.C. over Haverford; Indiana over Lock Haven; Kutztown over Millersville; Lebanon Valley over Lincoln; Lehigh over Muhlenberg; National Agricultural over Glassboro; Shippensburg over Mount St. Mary's; Slippery Rock over Atlantic Christian; Johns Hopkins over Swarthmore; Buffalo over Washington and Jefferson; Waynesburg over Westminster.

Postman, Doctor Reach Agreement

Butler, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—The Butler postal worker and the physician he charged not only fathered his wife's child but billed him for its delivery have reached an out-of-court settlement.

The $50,000 alienation of affection suit filed by Clair W. Hutzler against Dr. Paul A. Hinchberger has been withdrawn. Sum of the settlement, announced yesterday, was not disclosed but it included support of the infant.

Mrs. Hutzler, 28, and Hinchberger, 38, broke into the news last May when they went to St. Louis. Mrs. Hutzler took the infant boy with her but left her two other children behind.

The couple returned to Butler in July after Dr. Hinchberger was denied the right to practice medicine in Missouri. Later they returned to their respective mates.

115,000 IDLED
Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—State experts estimated today that about 115,000 workers in dependent industries have been idled in Pennsylvania by the current steel and soft coal strikes. In addition, there are another 285,000 steelworkers and miners out of work because of the walkouts in two basic industries.

Diplomat Booters Trip Bullets 3-2

Gettysburg college's soccer team lost to Franklin and Marshall 3-2 in two extra periods Wednesday afternoon at Lancaster.

Wade Ortel and Dean Shively tallied the Bullet scores. The Diplomats clinched the game on a goal with less than two minutes of the second extra period remaining.

SQUIRES PLAY AT HARRISBURG

Undeclared Delone Catholic will go after its ninth victory of the season and 18th over a two-year span when it tangles with Harrisburg Catholic Friday evening at Harrisburg.

The Squires suffered a heavy blow this week when it was revealed that "Wheaties" Staub, star quarterback, suffered a shoulder injury in the St. Francis Prep game on Sunday and will be out for the remainder of the season.

A victory for Delone on Friday will assure the Squires of at least a tie for the Harrisburg Diocesan title this year. The title last year was won by Delone.

Following Friday's game Delone has two games remaining. On November 13 Reading Catholic will be met at Reading and on November 20 York Catholic will be played at McSherrystown.

Boy, 8, Dies After Drinking Whiskey

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Eight-year-old Clarence Wood died of acute alcoholism after drinking a half tumblerful of bonded whiskey, Fayette County Coroner W. Arlison McGee ruled today.

The Masontown boy died two weeks ago but the coroner withheld his verdict pending a pathologist's report.

Assistant County Detective Forrest C. Parks said Clarence was given the whiskey by other boys who had looted an unoccupied home of 15 fifths of bonded rye.

Parks said the boy staggered around, then went home where he became violently sick and died a few hours later.

SAY LIFE ON EARTH HANGS BY INVISIBLE RAY

By RALPH DIGHTON
Los Angeles, Nov. 3 (AP)—Life and death on this planet may hang by so nebulous a thread as an invisible ray of light.

Two separate announcements Monday, one by the California Institute of Technology, the other by the University of California at Los Angeles, brought this grim specter into the realm of scientific speculation.

Sixty miles above the earth exists a heretofore unknown layer of oxygen molecules which mysteriously change the wave lengths of the sun's deadly ultra-violet rays to infra-red heat rays. This was announced by Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA professor of physics.

Life Might Vanish
If some piercing of the earth's atmospheric shield—perhaps by a comet or an atomic explosion—should let that layer of oxygen escape, life might vanish from the face of the globe under the bombardment of ultra-violet radiation from the sun.

The effect of certain types of ultra-violet rays on living organisms may be judged from announcement by Caltech's Dr. Renato Dubbecco, who yesterday disclosed discovery of "life rays" and "death rays" in his studies with invisible light.

A certain kind of light, he said, can kill a little-known bacterial virus, and another kind of light can bring the same organism back to life.

The killing light is an ultra-violet shortwave. The "life ray" is a barely visible light wave.

In Realm of Speculation
The viruses affected by these rays, said Dr. Dubbecco, control the growth processes of cells in the human body. Destruction of these viruses, he believes, may allow the cells to grow wild, as in the case of cancer.

Thus, if an overdose of ultra-violet rays from the sun did nothing else, it might touch off a cancer epidemic of severe proportions. The likelihood of such an occurrence is fantastic, he pointed out, "but within the realm of speculation."

Dr. Dubbecco said he hopes his studies ultimately may reveal the secret of the growth of cancer cells, and even the effect of the sun on humans.

Lewistown, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—A tale of a midnight struggle on a lonely riverbank near here was related by a commonwealth witness today at a murder trial of 23-year-old Homer F. Casner.

Casner is on trial in Mifflin County court for the slaying of Percy A. Sausman, Jr., 20, last February 13. Sausman's body was found later floating in the water of nearby Jacks creek.

FROSH TO PLAY MERCERSBURG A. HERE ON FRIDAY

Gettysburg college's freshman football team, unbeaten in its two contests, will make its first home appearance of the season Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the powerful Mercersburg academy eleven will be met on Memorial Field.

The Bullet yearlings have one of the most impressive squads since the renewal of football following the war. Coach Clyde Cole has a husky outfit with plenty of speed and deception which augurs well for future varsity teams.

The yearlings will be without the services of Jack Lundstedt, an end who suffered an ankle injury last week against the Bucknell frosh.

Jim Hammond, a quarterback, and Tom Feist, tackle, will see only limited duty against Mercersburg, due to minor leg injuries sustained last week.

Mercersburg is expected to provide the stiffest competition to date for the Cole-men. The academy has lost but one game, bowing to Hill school.

Among the victories are triumphs over the Dickinson freshmen and Massanutten Military academy.

An admission will be charged for the game.

PITTSBURGH IS IN LIMELIGHT FOR ELECTION

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—While the whole state is girding itself for an election next Tuesday, the eyes of most politicians will be on Pittsburgh. Here the mayoral race is seen to have a strong bearing on the gubernatorial campaign of 1950.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democrat seeking re-election, has been conducting a quiet campaign. He is a veteran and a vote-wise politician, a former state Democratic chairman with all the "know-how" the occupancy of that post signifies. He is counting on his own efficient organization and the backing of labor groups to give him a lion-size share of the city's third of a million possible votes.

His Republican opponent, Atty. Timothy F. (Tice) Ryan, is a newcomer to politics. When he was picked to run for the nomination, columnists went scurrying not to their files but to Ryan's personal friends to find out who the man was.

Bitter Attacks
But he has been conducting a swash-buckling campaign. His posters show vicious hands clutching a frightened child and urge citizens to vote Republican and make the city streets safe for youngsters.

The posters provoked bitter editorial attacks and even a lawsuit but Ryan stuck to his guns—the posters stayed up.

The GOP candidate has been driving hard with his talks. He has been hitting a different ward of the city every night, hammering away at what he calls the "mistakes," "extravagance" and "failures" of the Lawrence administration.

Not many persons are willing to gamble that Ryan will win. But, whether he wins or loses, it probably will be a long time before the people of Pittsburgh again ask one another, "Who is this man Ryan?"

What he may do to the city's Democratic majority is a question only to be answered at the polls.

Sport Shorts
Hollywood, Nov. 3 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, fourth on last season's list of pro golf money winners, is likely to be out of tournament play the rest of this year as the result of an injured shoulder.

Mangrum, 35, and his wife were passengers in the automobile of a friend yesterday when it was in a collision with another machine. A police report said the golfer suffered an injured shoulder during an altercation with the driver of the other machine.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—Blaine Eason, Duke's sophomore end who wasn't even a regular member of the team at the beginning of the season, is this week's lineman of the week.

The 20-year-old lad from Altoona, Pa., won first honors in the weekly Associated Press poll for his solid play against Georgia Tech.

(By The Associated Press)
The Providence Reds, who walked away with eastern division honors in the American Hockey league the past two seasons, continue to find the current going rough. Coach Terry Reardon's former powerful aggregation suffered their fourth loss in nine starts last night, bowing, 6-3 to the Buffalo Bisons.

The defeat dropped the Reds into a second place tie with the Springfield Indians, three points back of the Bisons. The Indians battled the Hershey Bears to a 4-4 standoff.

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Cattle 463, moderate supply selling at steady prices; calves 69, receipts light, limited demand at barely steady prices; hogs 372, receipts light, handys-weights selling $18 to $18.50; sheep 13, few lambs on market, prices 50 cents lower on all grades.

PEACE REIGNS AT SEIZED MINE

Grundy, Va., Nov. 3 (AP)—Some 2,000 tons of coal was expected to be run through the tangle of the state-seized mine near Keene Mountain in Buchanan county today. About 40 men took advantage of good weather yesterday in making preparations for mining the coal.

Peace was the order of the day yesterday, although it was disclosed by a Grundy boarding house operator that he had reservations for 25 additional state police.

The state has designated Ralph E. Mills, president of the mine company, to direct operations at the mine, according to the State Emergency Fuel commission. Pay for the miners will be via state check.

The governor ordered the state seizure of the mine to help in the accumulation of coal for emergency use in the state during the coal strike.

STENGEL NAMED PILOT OF YEAR

By JOE REICHLER
New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Casey Stengel, who hit the jackpot in his first year with the New York Yankees after nine unsuccessful seasons as National league pilot, is the major league's "manager of the year."

The grizzled veteran, who overcame a listful of obstacles to lead the Yankees to an American league pennant and a world championship last season, was the overwhelming choice of the Baseball Writing fraternity which voted in the Associated Press poll.

Stengel grabbed 101 of the 116 votes cast. Only four other pilots received recognition with Detroit's Red Rolfe and the Philadelphia Phillies' Ed Sawyer tied for a poor second at six votes apiece.

Joe McCarthy, Boston Red Sox skipper, who was nosed out for the pennant two straight years on the final day, received two votes. Jack Onslow, freshman pilot of the Chicago White Sox, got the remaining vote.

Stengel received the accolade for his tremendous job with a club that didn't figure to win in the first place and was crippled by a record number of injuries and illnesses from the start of the season right down to the final day. In addition, he had to live down the reputation as a clown and court jester.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman moved swiftly today to tighten ship under the new Navy top command by assigning Rear Admiral John J. Ballentine, Pacific war hero, to his own old post in the Mediterranean.

Sherman, pulled out of command of the Sixth Task Fleet in the Mediterranean to take over as chief of naval operations, was sworn in only yesterday after a shakeup growing out of the inter-service row over war roles.

Warriors Finish Season Here Friday By Meeting Unbeaten Mechanicsburg In Loop Game

Mechanicsburg high, unbeaten this season but tied by Waynesboro, comes here Friday evening to tangle with the Gettysburg high school Warriors in the final game of the season for the Forney-men.

A win is imperative for the Warriors, who hope to oust Chambersburg from first place and take the 1949 South Penn title when the teams clash November 11 at Mechanicsburg.

Gettysburg, termed by most fans as the surprise team of the season due to remaining in the thick of the battle for first place, was knocked out of the championship race last Friday when it was forced to accept a 0-0 tie with Hershey in a game played in a downpour.

On Wednesday afternoon Coach Forney took his squad to Biglerville for a scrimmage against the Canvillers. This afternoon only a light tune-up workout is scheduled.

Have Good Record

The Forney-men, now in second place in the conference, could establish the best local record since 1942 by triumphing on Friday. To date Gettysburg has won four games, tied two and lost two. One victory and one defeat were in non-conference games.

Eight Warriors will be finishing up their scholastic football careers. They include Bobby Sachs, Kenny Biesecker, Paul Miller and Martin Myers, all backs; Bill Bucher, Charley Kitzmiller, Leo Kuhn and Charles Caskey, all linemen.

In compiling their unbeaten record Mechanicsburg scored victories as follows: Swatara Township, 26-0; Biglerville, 21-0; Western high, Washington, D. C., 26-6; Hershey, 41-14; New Cumberland, 31-0; Shippenburg, 25-0. The Wildcat-Waynesboro score was 6-6.

Johnny Fredericks has several outstanding players among whom are George Cuthbert, 185, and Don Cornman, 145, backs, and Charley Kolhass, 200-pound center. All are seniors as are Don Badorf, end; Jack Jordan, tackle; Charles Miller, Dave Coover and Charles Alexander, backs.

If the Warriors are to close their season with a triumph they will have to give one of their best performances of the season as the Mechanicsburg outfit will undoubtedly be keyed to its finest pitch, fully realizing its title hopes will hinge largely on the outcome of the game.

Many Fans Coming

Almost regardless of weather conditions, a large crowd is anticipated. Hundreds of Wildcat fans will come here, confident their team will remain its unbeaten record.

Carlisle high, still holding an outside chance for the title after winning four straight league contests after being dumped 7-0 by the Warriors, will be host to Chambersburg in another "crucial" game Friday.

Other games, meaningless insofar as championship hopes are concerned, find Shippenburg at Waynesboro, and Hanover at Hershey.

Seek Amateurs For "Sponging"

Salem, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Amateurs with larceny in their hearts and a knowledge of the physical geography of Rockingham Park were sought today as those concerned with "sponging" five horses in the seventh race here October 24.

Most of those interested in seizing and prosecuting the tamperers, who pushed small sponges into the thoroughbred's noses, are convinced there was no intended betting big coup as the wagering on the race was not abnormal.

It was pointed out, however, that the seventh race plays a part in the makeup of the figures used in the numbers pool in this area.

No fewer than six groups have declared themselves in on the search for the person, or persons, concerned in thrusting the sponges, about the size of a small rubber ball, into the animals' noses.

Dr. H. J. Lewis, track veterinarian, was convinced "amateurs" were involved "because the sponges were obviously pushed up by a person's fingers."

The track vet explained a "sharpie" involved in such an illegal deed would use a probe.

Kitzmiller Chosen Honorary Captain

Charley Kitzmiller, star tackle on the Gettysburg high school football team, was elected honorary captain for the 1949 season at a meeting of the squad Wednesday.

Kitzmiller, a six-foot 180-pounder, has been a standout performer for the Warriors all season and is one of the best tackles in the South Penn conference.

He will captain his team in its final game with Mechanicsburg high here Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Denver Nuggets, who opened their National Basketball Association season on Oct. 29, won't play their first game in Denver until nearly a month later. . . . If they haven't won a fair share of games by that time, they might as well stay on the road. . . . The reason is that the N.B.A. (not to be confused with Abe Greene's boxing outfit) has adopted the bush league system of shifting games all over the map, playing them as parts of doubleheaders in league cities or in smaller non-league towns. . . . Denver, for instance, meets Syracuse in Auburn, N. Y. . . . A perfectly good place but not a big league city. . . . Leo Seltzer, who maintains a tremendous enthusiasm for his brain child, Roller Derby, says the "bush league" feature which provides most of the roughness and excitement, came into existence when Bill Corum and Chick Meehan saw some informal roughness in a race at the old Hippodrome and decided it resembled football.

SECRET PLAY

The Washington and Yates high school football teams were near the end of their game in Houston, Tex., last week-end when the P.A. announcer advised: "Stand by for a special announcement immediately after the game." . . . The 9,000 fans were left wondering until the final gun sounded, then the announcer's voice boomed out again: "This is the special announcement. Washington has played 12 men on the field the last two minutes of the game."

CLEANING THE CUFF

Tipping from Texas says unbeaten Baylor won't have an easy time Saturday against the U. of Texas team, which came mighty close to winning the three games it lost. . . . Princeton claims the smallest part of football guards in the east in 178-pounders Norman Moore and Alan Clark. Moore also is a candidate for a Phi Beta Kappa key. . . . St. Joseph, Mo., fans are boosting Christian Brothers high school, winner of 24 straight, for some schoolboy "bowl" game. Catch is it would have to be played within ten days after Thanksgiving.

Delone Freshman Gridders Bow 12-2

The Harrisburg Catholic high school freshman football team defeated the Delone Catholic Freshmen Wednesday night, 12 to 2, at McSherrystown.

Delone took the lead, 2 to 0, on a safety in the first quarter when the Harrisburg center made a bad pass into his end zone. e5aaoahopafane exSSdDeUe

Boy, 8, Dies After Drinking Whiskey

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Eight-year-old Clarence Wood died of acute alcoholism after drinking a half tumblerful of bonded whiskey, Fayette County Coroner W. Arlison McGee ruled today.

The Masontown boy died two weeks ago but the coroner withheld his verdict pending a pathologist's report.

Assistant County Detective Forrest C. Parks said Clarence was given the whiskey by other boys who had looted an unoccupied home of 15 fifths of bonded rye.

Parks said the boy staggered around, then went home where he became violently sick and died a few hours later.

By RALPH DIGHTON
Los Angeles, Nov. 3 (AP)—Life and death on this planet may hang by so nebulous a thread as an invisible ray of light.

Two separate announcements Monday, one by the California Institute of Technology, the other by the University of California at Los Angeles, brought this grim specter into the realm of scientific speculation.

Sixty miles above the earth exists a heretofore unknown layer of oxygen molecules which mysteriously change the wave lengths of the sun's deadly ultra-violet rays to infra-red heat rays. This was announced by Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA professor of physics.

Life Might Vanish
If some piercing of the earth's atmospheric shield—perhaps by a comet or an atomic explosion—should let that layer of oxygen escape, life might vanish from the face of the globe under the bombardment of ultra-violet radiation from the sun.

The effect of certain types of ultra-violet rays on living organisms may be judged from announcement by Caltech's Dr. Renato Dulbecco, who yesterday disclosed discovery of "life rays" and "death rays" in his studies with invisible light.

A certain kind of light, he said, can kill a little-known bacterial virus, and another kind of light can bring the same organism back to life.

The killing light is an ultra-violet shortwave. The "life ray" is a barely visible light wave.

In Realm of Speculation
The viruses affected by these rays, said Dr. Dulbecco, control the growth processes of cells in the human body. Destruction of these viruses, he believes, may allow the cells to grow wild, as in the case of cancer.

Thus, if an overdose of ultra-violet rays from the sun did nothing else, it might touch off a cancer epidemic of severe proportions. The likelihood of such an occurrence is fantastic, he pointed out, "but within the realm of speculation."

Dr. Dulbecco said he hopes his studies ultimately may reveal the secret of the growth of cancer cells, and even the effect of the sun on humans.

Lewistown, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—A tale of a midnight struggle on a lonely riverbank near here was related by a commonwealth witness today at a murder trial of 23-year-old Homer F. Casner.

Casner is on trial in Mifflin County court for the slaying of Percy A. Sausman, Jr., 30, last February 13. Sausman's body was found later floating in the water of nearby Jacks creek.

FROSH TO PLAY MERCERSBURG A. HERE ON FRIDAY

Gettysburg college's freshman football team, unbeaten in its two contests, will make its first home appearance of the season Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the powerful Mercersburg academy evenly will be met on Memorial Field.

The Bullet yearlings have one of the most impressive squads since the renewal of football following the war. Coach Clyde Cole has a husky outfit with plenty of speed and deception which augurs well for future varsity teams.

The yearlings will be without the services of Jack Lundstedt, an end, who suffered an ankle injury last week against the Bucknell frosh.

Jim Hammond, a quarterback, and Tom Feist, tackle, will see only limited duty against Mercersburg, due to minor leg injuries sustained last week.

Mercersburg is expected to provide the stiffest competition to date for the Cole-men. The academy has lost but one game, bowing to Hill school.

Among the victories are triumphs over the Dickinson freshmen and Massanutten Military academy.

An admission will be charged for the game.

PITTSBURGH IS IN LIMELIGHT FOR ELECTION

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3 (AP)—While the whole state is girding itself for an election next Tuesday, the eyes of most politicians will be on Pittsburgh. Here the mayoral race is seen to have a strong bearing on the gubernatorial campaign of 1950.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democrat seeking re-election, has been conducting a quiet campaign. He is a veteran and a vote-wise politician, a former state Democratic chairman with all the "know-how" the occupancy of that post signifies. He is counting on his own efficient organization and the backing of labor groups to give him a lion's share of the city's third of a million possible votes.

His Republican opponent, Atty. Timothy F. (Tice) Ryan, is a newcomer to politics. When he was picked to run for the nomination, columnists went scurrying not to their files but to Ryan's personal friends to find out who the man was.

Bitter Attacks
But he has been conducting a swash-buckling campaign. His posters show vicious hands clutching a frightened child and urge citizens to vote Republican and make the city streets safe for youngsters.

The posters provoked bitter editorial attacks and even a lawsuit but Ryan stuck to his guns—the posters stayed up.

The GOP candidate has been driving hard with his talks. He has been hitting a different ward of the city every night, hammering away at what he calls the "mistakes," "extravagance" and "failures" of the Lawrence administration.

Not many persons are willing to gamble that Ryan will win. But, whether he wins or loses, it probably will be a long time before the people of Pittsburgh again ask one another, "Who is this man Ryan?"

What he may do to the city's Democratic majority is a question only to be answered at the polls.

Sport Shorts

Hollywood, Nov. 3 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, fourth on last season's list of pro golf money winners, is likely to be out of tournament play the rest of this year as the result of an injured shoulder.

Mangrum, 35, and his wife were passengers in the automobile of a friend yesterday when it was in a collision with another machine. A police report said the golfer suffered an injured shoulder during an altercation with the driver of the other machine.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—Blaine Earon, Duke's sophomore end who wasn't even a regular member of the team at the beginning of the season, is this week's lineman of the week.

The 20-year-old lad from Altoona, Pa., won first honors in the weekly Associated Press poll for his solid play against Georgia Tech.

(By The Associated Press)
The Providence Reds, who walked away with eastern division honors in the American Hockey league the past two seasons, continue to find the current going rough. Coach Terry Reardon's former powerful aggregation suffered their fourth loss in nine starts last night, bowing, 6-3 to the Buffalo Bisons.

The defeat dropped the Reds into a second place tie with the Springfield Indians, three points back of the Bisons. The Indians battled the Hershey Bears to a 4-4 standoff.

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Cattle 463, moderate supply selling at steady prices; calves 69, receipts light, limited demand at barely steady prices; hogs 372, receipts light, handy-weights selling $18 to $18.50; sheep 13, few lambs on market, prices 50 cents lower on all grades.

PEACE REIGNS AT SEIZED MINE

Grundy, Va., Nov. 3 (AP)—Some 2,000 tons of coal was expected to be run through the tangle of the state-seized mine near Keene Mountain in Buchanan county today. About 40 men took advantage of good weather yesterday in making preparations for mining the coal.

Peace was the order of the day yesterday, although it was disclosed by a Grundy boarding house operator that he had reservations for 25 additional state police.

The state has designated Ralph E. Mills, president of the mine company, to direct operations at the mine, according to the State Emergency Fuel commission. Pay for the miners will be via state check.

The governor ordered the state seizure of the mine to help in the accumulation of coal for emergency use in the state during the coal strike.

By JOE REICHLER
New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Casey Stengel, who hit the jackpot in his first year with the New York Yankees after nine unsuccessful seasons as National league pilot, is the major league's "manager of the year."

The grizzled veteran, who overcame a fistful of obstacles to lead the Yankees to an American league pennant and a world championship last season, was the overwhelming choice of the Baseball Writing fraternity which voted in the Associated Press poll.

Stengel grabbed 101 of the 116 votes cast. Only four other pilots received recognition with Detroit's Red Rolfe and the Philadelphia Phillies' Ed Sawyer tied for a poor second at six votes apiece.

Joe McCarthy, Boston Red Sox skipper, who was named out for the pennant two straight years on the final day, received two votes. Jack Onslow, freshman pilot of the Chicago White Sox, got the remaining vote.

Stengel received the accolade for his tremendous job with a club that didn't figure to win in the first place, and was crippled by a record number of injuries and illnesses from the start of the season right down to the final day. In addition, he had to live down the reputation as a clown and court jester.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman moved swiftly today to tighten ship under the new Navy top command by assigning Rear Admiral John J. Ballentine, Pacific war hero, to his own old post in the Mediterranean.

Sherman, pulled out of command of the Sixth Task Fleet in the Mediterranean to take over as chief of naval operations, was sworn in only yesterday after a shakeup growing out of the inter-service row over war roles.

2 Sailor-Fliers Run Out Of Gasoline

Honolulu, Nov. 3 (AP)—Two sailors ran out of gas in a rented airplane over Maui Island.

Carlton B. Sumner and Roy Jennings, both yeomen first class from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge, set their craft down on a highway.

They walked to an airport nearby bought a five-gallon can of gasoline, walked back to the plane and filled 'er up.

The lads took off as police cleared the highway. Didn't even get a parking ticket.

Plywood was first so named in 1914, although it has been in use for more than 100 years.

OPEN HOUSE FOR OXFORD SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop No. 85, New Oxford, will hold an open house get-together Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the First Lutheran church, New Oxford. The open house program has been arranged by the Scout committee for prospective Scouts, parents and all former Scouts and Scouters. The program will emphasize a review of events of the past year to recognize outstanding individual achievement and the achievement of the troop and the highlights of the Scout program for the coming year.

The climax of the evening will be centered in the results of an inspection team from district headquarters. This evaluation will be based upon the net worth of the whole Scouting program of Troop 85. The score will be determined by the number of scouts actively engaged in scouting as well as the activity of the scouts themselves. Walter Blettner, district commissioner, and David Dickson, field representative, will make the evaluation. Doors to the meeting will be opened at 6 o'clock. There will be a basket lunch at 6:30, with coffee and dessert to be served by the troop.

The program committee, composed of C. P. Keefer, chairman; Theodore Stough, a parent; William H. Snyder III, senior patrol leader, and Merrill A. Yoh, Sr., scoutmaster, have arranged the following program: Review of exhibits—Scout awards, troop honors; invocation by the Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor; dinner; song singing; opening ceremony, color guard, pledge of allegiance, introduction of guests, scouts, scoutmasters; Scout demonstrations, Flying Eagle patrol, leader, John Kratzert, first aid, packing for the trail; Beaver patrol, leader, Merrill Yoh, Jr., the compass, respect due and display of the American flag; Recognition of accomplishments, advancements, Rev. A. C. Rohrbach; investiture ceremony; evaluation; closing ceremony; presentation of activities for coming year.

BULLETINS

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—James S. Kemper quit today as treasurer of the Republican National committee because the GOP's reserve funds have dwindled from $832,000 in 1948 to only $90,000.

He said he is resigning because he feels the GOP should have collected more money or cut expenses and because he wants to get rid of a political policy "handicap" so he can help elect a Republican congress in 1950 and a Republican president in 1952.

Millins, S. C., Nov. 3 (AP)—A seven-year-old blond girl, taken off yesterday in a car by two strange men, showed up at an old farm home today, tired but unharmed. Deputy Sheriff Burt Rogers said Jerome Alford, 30, and Hugh Smith, 22, both farmers, had been arrested. No charges have yet been preferred. They were locked in an undisclosed jail.

Manila, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Manila Chronicle tonight reported 200 persons were killed or drowned at Kabankalan, Negros Island, in the Philippines' worst typhoon in years on Oct. 31.

The report, the newspaper said, was given to the provincial governor's office by Esteban Abada, a senatorial candidate who came from Kabankalan today. Previously 57 persons officially had been reported killed on Negros and Cebu islands.

She had been in failing health for several years. This summer her condition generally became worse and this past week she was critically ill.

Mrs. Galloway was born in Adams county, the daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Wagonman Kauffman. She had lived her entire life in the South Mountain section. Her husband died in 1936.

She is survived by the following children: Henry G. George and Madeline Galloway, all at home; Mrs. John W. Naugle, Fayetteville R. 1; Mr. Calvin Baker and Mrs. Alice Naugle, South Mountain; Mrs. Edward Rubenstein, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Harvey Kauffman, Zullinger. Also surviving are 33 grandchildren, 35 great grandchildren, and three great-great grandchildren.

Also surviving are one brother, George Kauffman, of Walkersville, Md.; and two sisters, Mrs. William Carbaugh and Mrs. Harriet Kauffman, both of South Mountain.

Funeral services Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the Second Church of God, South Mountain, in charge of the Rev. J. R. Reese. Interment in Strang cemetery.

Friends may call this evening at the Grove funeral home, Waynesboro, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Nobel Literature Award Is Shelved

Stockholm, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Swedish academy decided today to shelve this year's Nobel prize for literature because it was hopelessly deadlocked over four top candidates, including Winston Churchill and the Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce.

The tug-of-war on the prize decision was reported to have been greater than at any other time during the half century in which the 18-member academy has been making the award.

The decision was taken at a brief session this afternoon. It was announced that, as no candidate had been able to obtain the absolute majority necessary, the award will be withheld until 1950.

The Nobel prizes, made in various fields of human affairs, are set up under the will of the late Alfred B. Nobel, the inventor of dynamite. The will calls for the presentation of the awards to the person making the greatest contribution in each of the fields.

News Briefs

Steelton, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Thomas A. Crowley, Steelton tax collector and prominent central Pennsylvania sports figure, died today of a heart ailment. He was 55. Crowley, a candidate to succeed himself for a seventh consecutive term as tax collector, died at the nearby Harrisburg hospital after a long illness.

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Amvets thinks the $500,000.000 state veterans bonus could be paid in the first two months of 1950 if the voters approve it at next Tuesday's election.

The veterans organization said the state Military Affairs Department should be able to make payments in January or February of up to $500 each for Pennsylvania's 1,314,000 veterans of World War II.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—A strike of drivers and mechanics left Houston, Texas' largest city, without bus service today. The walk out of 1,100 CIO Transport union members caused the city's first major transportation tieup. The buses are the only public transportation for hundreds of Houstonians. There are no street cars in the city.

Paris, Nov. 3 (AP)—Twelve European foreign ministers met today to map new steps aimed at pulling their nations together into a union.

The ministers, forming the guiding ministerial committee of the council of Europe, will pass on resolutions approved by the council's consultative assembly at its meeting in September at Strasbourg.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, U. S. Senator from Texas, told the 16th annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association "The American people expect the Associated Press to be dependable."

"The people are accustomed to making decisions and forming opinions on the basis of what the AP reports," the Senator said last night at a dinner at Shady Oak farm. More than 300 newspapermen and their wives were dinner guests of Amos Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The first recorded use of form-bent plywood was in the manufacture of railroad station seats in New York city in 1870.

TIMELY SHADE TREE FACTS

A wisely selected and carefully planted shade tree in the proper place in the home grounds is one of the best investments in material and labor the home owner can make. It adds at once to the property's intrinsic value and continues to augment in worth through many years ahead. It improves the appearance of buildings and grounds. It imparts a sense of comfort to all who pass by and see it and to all who later enjoy its shade. Next to the soil, a shade tree is the most durable asset of a well planned residence, rural or urban.

When may deciduous shade trees be planted safely? In the light of widespread tree diseases and insect menaces, which are the best species and varieties to plant? Is it advisable to move native trees from fields or forests to the home grounds for shade roles? In answer to these and scores of related questions the editor receives from readers, the following timely planting and care suggestions are offered:

All deciduous trees (those which shed their leaves in the fall) may be planted safely or older specimens moved any time after they are dormant in late October until shortly before buds begin to swell in the spring. In most instances early November, mid periods over winter, or late February and early March are the most favorable times to plant new trees or move older ones.

Experience points to the wisdom of avoiding certain species and genera which now are threatened by diseases. On this basis the elms should be rejected because of the Dutch elm disease. Likewise London planetrees and the American sycamore, also the well-liked Lombardy poplar, should not be included where diseases have already attacked these species.

In some cases it is not unwise to move a partly grown native tree to the home grounds in order to save several years of waiting for a nursery specimen to grow up. But this practice is warranted only where experience, equipment, and the habits of the particular tree justify the risk and expense. Often such moved trees fail the first or second year after moving or struggle along at least partly dwarfed throughout their lives. Use of well rooted nursery specimens has many merits to commend the method, including faster growth, better shape, and greater vigor.

Several steps in planting should be emphasized. First, the roots should not be exposed to sun and air for more than a few minutes before and during planting operations.

ALPHA FIREMEN

The company did not hold an annual picnic this year, so special refreshments are planned at the December meeting, when this social committee will be assisted by Charles Frock, Paul Hollinger and Paul Bowman.

Officials will be nominated at the next meeting on Tuesday, December 6. Robert Koontz, truck foreman and janitor, tendered his resignation to take effect immediately. It was accepted with regret and the assistant, Levi Hull, was appointed to serve temporarily until the position is filled at the annual elections. Refreshments were served to 37 members by Paul Hollinger, Paul Bowman and Robert Weaver.

Women's Guild Meets
Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker was the leader at the monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of Christ Reformed church, near town, held Wednesday evening in the church, and Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager served as pianist. Following a song service the scripture lessons were read by Mrs. Clair R. Markle and Mrs. Oliver Sentz. The topic for the month was "The World Family of Nations" and it was presented to the group in the form of a playlet by Mrs. Ralph Unger, Mrs. Laverne Mummert and Mrs. John C. Brumbach. The playlet concluded with the group singing of "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" and a prayer by the leader.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ralph Unger. Mrs. Clair R. Markle presented the secretary's report and Mrs. Harry E. Bair, the treasurer's report. It was decided to have the annual Thank Offering service on Sunday, November 27, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Roy Limbert, Dover, has been secured as the guest speaker. She will speak on "Japan." Mrs. Limbert, pastor of the Shiloh Reformed church, York county, and is president of the Women's Guild of Mercersburg Synod.

The Guild also decided to purchase Christmas gifts for an Adams County Welfare girl. Mrs. Clair Markle and Mrs. Laverne Mummert were appointed a committee to secure the gifts. Reports on the fall meeting of the Nevin Regional of Mercersburg Synod, held at Heidelberg Reformed church, York, on October 27, were presented by Mrs. Harry E. Bair, Mrs. Clair R. Markle and Mrs. John C. Brumbach. The meeting closed with the prayer from "The Prayer Calendar" of the Women's Guild. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 7, at the church and the program will be in charge of the Girls' Guild.

Couple Badly Hurt
Mrs. Millard Basehor, South Queen street, received word late on Monday night that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sentz, Princeville, Ill., were in an automobile accident. As they were returning home to Princeville from Peoria, Ill., about 5 p. m. Monday, their new car and a pick-up truck had a head-on collision. They were both taken to the hospital at Princeville, where Mr. Sentz is seriously ill. The report states that he has a broken leg, a crushed chest, a concussion of the brain and a possible broken vertebra. Mrs. Sentz is suffering from a broken ankle and shock. Mr. and Mrs. Basehor left early this morning for Princeville.

Mr. Sentz is a native of Adams county. A brother, Calvin M. Sentz, Sr., and a sister, Mrs. William Wherley, reside in Littlestown.

Plan Christmas Party
Mrs. John LeGros, president, was in charge of the program as well as the business at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of Redeemer's Reformed church, held Tuesday evening in the social hall. The group listened to recordings on "The Life of Daniel." The secretary's report was presented by Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds.

It was decided to hold the annual Christmas party at the next meeting on Tuesday, December 6, in the social hall. Instead of the customary oyster supper in connection with this party, each member will contribute one item to the refreshments. Program committee consists of Mrs. Ralph Reaver and Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds.

A guess package, contributed by Mrs. Ralph Reaver, was received by Mrs. Agnes Krebs. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham, Mrs. Ralph Reaver and Mrs. Clement Sneringer was appointed to report at the next meeting.

TO MARK SPECIAL DAY
County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh today urged schools to observe November 21 as Mayflower Compact day. A proclamation calling upon Pennsylvanians to observe the day because the Mayflower Compact was the first "Freedom document" signed in America has been issued by Governor Duff, Slaybaugh said.

Chungking, Nov. 3 (AP)—Chinese Communists struck further blows today in an apparent attempt to soften the approaches to the Provinces of Szechwan and Kweichow.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of Lungshan in Hunan Province, 175 miles east of Chungking. This is the nearest point to their capital in which the Nationalists have so far acknowledged the presence of Communist troops.

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—John L. Lewis today asked Governor Henry Schricker to renew his effort for a separate coal strike settlement in Indiana—a proposal rejected by the state's mine owners yesterday. Such a settlement might break the way for ending the nationwide strike of 400,000 United Mine Workers.

Gettysburg Captures Dickinson
Game 6-0: "Streak" McMillan's fifty yard dash for a touchdown in the first few minutes of play in the 1929 clash of the time honored rivals, Gettysburg and Dickinson, was the only scoring in Saturday's game at Biddle Field, Carlisle.

The men of Bream ran rings around their ancient opponents before a crowd estimated at 6,000.

Shippensburg Is Walloped by High 50-0: Displaying an almost irresistible offense, Gettysburg high school's football team won its fifth victory of the season on Saturday, Shippensburg, 50-0. Spectacular runs by Fisel and Weikert thrilled the crowd.

County Hurier Weds Saturday: The wedding of Miss Helen Goodlander, of Harrisburg, and Maurice E. Bream, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Bream, Benderville, took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage of the Stevens Memorial Methodist church, Harrisburg, with the Rev. J. E. Bucke officiating.

Mr. Bream is a pitcher on the Jersey City baseball team in the International League.

Throng Hears Dr. D. A. Poling: The auditorium of the William Penn high school, York, was filled to overflowing Friday evening when Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, delivered an address. The meeting was held under the auspices of the York County Christian Endeavor union.

County officers who attended were Miss Vestal Staldsmith, president; the Rev. Edward Jones, vice president; Miss Helen Sheely, secretary; Robert Hoffman, treasurer; Miss Edith Wright, efficiency superintendent; Mrs. John Conrad, junior superintendent; Paul Reaser, president of the fifth district of the county. Other Christian Endeavorers who were in attendance were Miss Alma Sheely, Miss Freda Troxell, Miss Mary Conrad, Martin Tozer, Leighton King and William Kadel.

Move to Camden: Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Freed, West Middle street, have moved to Camden, New Jersey, where Mr. Freed has accepted a position with the Victor Products company. Mr. Freed was employed by the Live Wire Electric company.

Momus Is King of Big Parade: Bollicking, frolicking boys and girls and men and women, attired in costumes of every color, paid homage to old King Momus in Gettysburg's annual Halloween parade Thursday evening.

The marchers heard the strains of the Boys' band and started marching, running, shouting and throwing confetti all along the line.

A group of soldiers from Camp Meade, Maryland, camping on the battlefield joined in the parade. After the parade disbanded the Boys' band played several selections in center square.

Resigns as Foreman: Alex Karas, proprietor of the Keystone radio service, has resigned his position as foreman at the Eagle Silk mill here in order to devote all his time to the radio business.

Emmitsburg Girl Joined in Wedding: Miss Marie Catherine Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kelly, near Emmitsburg, and Joseph Henry Rosensteel, son of Theodore Rosensteel, of Altoona, Pa., were married at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock by the Rev. John F. Eckenrode, of Belair. Miss Mary Rosensteel, of Philadelphia, was maid of honor and Rodgers Topper, Louis Rosensteel and Lewis Eckenrode were altar boys.

Give Reception for Newlyweds: A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Koehler, McSherrystown, in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Roth, who were married Tuesday morning at St. Mary's

THOSE LITTLE EXTRAS

Life's greatest enjoyment is gained by the many little extras that are forever being thrown in, or which just creep in, unobserved, at that time. It's the little extras of time, used in intelligent reading, that make the well-informed man or woman.

It's those little extras of kindness, thoughtfulness, and encouragement that cement friendship and enrich it. The worker who is forever doing little extra efforts, for which he is not paid visibly in his pay envelope, is the one who advances, and who, by the way, keeps increasing his happiness.

Those little extras, in the shape of increased efforts toward perfection, make the artist or writer outstanding. There are too many people who say that "this will do"—and then let it go at that.

The striking and interesting personality is alive and radiating with little extras, with which one has been born, or that one has cultivated intelligently. These extras may be no more than a habitual smile, or a cultivated philosophy of life, or a showing of patience and courage under duress or sorrow, but there they are to glorify and emphasize life's values.

The little extras that we don't have to do, or give, but which we do anyway, are what contribute so much to the happiness of others. They season life itself and are like whispered music, or the fragrance to flowers. We say of the salesman that he has "that something," but are unable to define what "that something" is. Perhaps it can honestly be stated that these little extras are what differentiate the successful from the unsuccessful salesman.

When travelling it's the little extra attention that the porter on the train, the steward on a ship, or the waiter in a restaurant gives that rounds out a satisfying experience. The "please" and the "thank you" are little extras in politeness and appreciation—but they rate high. They help feed the soul.

Throughout all nature are scattered these little extras—gifts of the Creator, for which no payment beyond appreciation is expected. Flowers, the birds, the animals, trees, and the precious things hidden within in the earth. The farmer who yields his scythe in the meadow gets one of those extras in the song that his sharpened blade creates—a whispered poem!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Pat on the Nose."

PLAY SPOT
Now if it's fun you're seeking, I'll tell you where to play.
The yard is wide and open and throw a ball you may.
Just whistle for your comrades and make them welcome here.
For when I hear you shouting I'll know that you are near.

If you should break a window, I'll buy another pane.
I'd rather you'd be careful, but still I'll not complain.
And, if your friends get hungry the cookies I'll supply.
To me it's peace and comfort to know that you're nearby.

Should you be fond of music—a trumpet want to blow
Then somewhere else to toot it I would not have you go.
So practice in the parlor with members of your band.
It may be noisy music, but I shall think it grand.

I want you to remember your home is meant for play.
'Tis kept for love and laughter. So wear the grass away.
And scuff the rugs and carpets and never have a fear.
'Tis not for noise I'll scold you if you are happy here.

S.R. GUGGENHEIM, COPPER KING, EXPIRES AT 88

Port Washington, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)

Solomon R. Guggenheim, senior member of America's great mining family, died here early today at his Long Island estate, Trillora Court. He was 88.

The multi-millionaire copper king was active in the family business until three weeks ago, when his health suddenly began to fail.

His wife, Irene, was with him when he died, and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Obre, also were present. His eldest daughter, Countess Castle Stewart, was reported flying home from England.

Guggenheim was the senior member of the firm of Guggenheim Brothers, and was the last survivor of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who started the family in the mining business in North and South America.

Patron of Arts
He also was a generous art patron, and had been a collector since his marriage in 1895 to Irene M. Rothschild, a young art follower.

In 1937 he formed the Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation to encourage and popularize art.

As head of the family firm, Guggenheim was a director of a number of metals corporations, including Kennecott Copper, Braden Copper, Pacific Tin, and the Nevada Northern Railway Co. He also was one of the major stockholders in the huge Anaconda Copper Mining Co.

Guggenheim was born February 2, 1861, in Philadelphia, the son of a prosperous embroidery manufacturer. He was educated in the United States and Switzerland. His father early became interested in Colorado mining, and this end of the business prospered so that the sons liquidated the embroidery firm and concentrated on metals.

Funeral services have not yet been announced.

HEART ATTACK TAKES CARDINAL

Rome, Nov. 3 (AP)—Francesco Cardinal Marmaggi, one of the top administrators in the Vatican, died early today following a heart attack. He was 73.

Cardinal Marmaggi, elevated to the Sacred College in 1935, was prefect of the congregation of the council. He directed the application and enforcement of decrees of the Council of Trent and other church laws.

His death reduces the membership of the College of Cardinals to 54. The full membership is 70.

Cardinal Marmaggi suffered a heart attack Oct. 28 and had been in critical condition ever since. Pope Pius XII, Vatican sources said, sent his personal benediction by Giovanni Battista Montini, of the Vatican secretariat of state, after the heart attack.

The congregation of the Council is one of 11 departments, each headed by a cardinal, that administer affairs of the Catholic church.

HOUSE OF LORDS POWER IS BEING CURBED AGAIN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Britain's House of Commons Monday night passed a bill which further curbs the powers of the august House of Lords, thereby gaining another notable victory in the generation-old fight between the elected representatives of "the people" and the ermine-robed nobility.

This measure restricts the Lords from holding up for more than 1 yr. any legislation passed by Commons. Heretofore the Lords could delay Commons' measures for two years.

This in itself is a notable victory for Commons, but it cuts deeper than that. It opens the way for the final passage of the Commons bill nationalizing England's huge steel industry.

One Other Way

The preponderantly Conservative Lords had agreed reluctantly to lesser measures for state ownership, but had refused to accept the steel program, which represented the high-point in the Socialist program of nationalization. Now they will have it rammed down their throats. And the government will be able to achieve this before its five-year term ends next July.

It's interesting to note that there was one other way in which Prime Minister Attlee could have beaten the Lords on this steel legislation if necessary, although it would have been an extreme measure. He could have followed the precedent set by the late Prime Minister Herbert Asquith back in 1911. This was in connection with an act which would bar the Lords from interfering with any finance bill in Commons.

The House of Lords was adamant in its refusal to make any such concession. Thereupon Asquith issued an ultimatum that either the Lords would agree or he would call upon the King to Kridinate enough new Lords to insure acceptance in the Upper House. The Lords then surrendered, for the Prime Minister could have done exactly as he threatened. It is quite unlikely that the King would refuse such a request by the head of government.

Many Rarely Attend

A Prime Minister, by the way, cannot be a member of the Upper House. Only a member of Commons can hold that position. Along that line, the King himself cannot enter the House of Commons without the consent of the House.

There are 640 members of Commons and 740 Lords. Some of the Lords are hereditary, others are newly appointed by the King, and there are still other categories, including Bishops of the Church of England. Actually the majority of the Lords rarely attend the sessions, and there is growing debate in England whether it wouldn't be better to reconstitute the House of Lords by making its membership elective. In that way it would represent the general public the same as does Commons. That at least is a solution which the Socialist party would like to see.

Wide Interest In Driscoll Campaign

Newark, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll next Tuesday will try to do something no other New Jersey governor could do—succeed himself as the state's chief executive.

A decisive victory might well stamp the 47-year-old governor as a front runner for the 1952 Republican Presidential nomination.

Driscoll is the first New Jersey governor to seek the office under a new state constitution, adopted in 1947, which permits a governor to serve a second consecutive term.

His opponent in the Tuesday election is Democrat Elmer H. Wene, a onetime congressman backed by Frank "Boss" Hague, whose once all-powerful political machine has been creaking of late.

How much influence Hague still wields may determine the election which many politicians see as a close one.

Couple Burns To Death; Sons Escape

Emporium, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP) — A middle aged couple burned to death in their frame home near this western Pennsylvania town today.

Their two teen-aged sons escaped with minor burns.

The victims, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, perished when a blast wrecked their blazing story and a half dwelling at Rich Valley, eight miles northwest of Emporium.

Firemen said the couple's sons,

Bennett, 15, and James, 13, told this story:

They were awakened by their mother to discover the house filled with smoke and the kitchen ablaze. They fled out a window, but Mrs. Snyder did not follow. Their father, who already was outside the house, reentered in search of his wife. At that moment the unexplained explosion shattered the house.

Firemen said the fire apparently began in a kitchen range. The boys were treated at St. Mary's hospital for slight burns.

Many types of bulbs for flowers, such as the tulip, should be planted in the fall before the ground freezes. Every team in the National Hockey League won more games than it lost at home in 1948-49.

Emmitsburg XMAS TOYS ARE PROJECT FOR MOTHERS' UNIT

The Homeroom mothers met Wednesday in the library of the Emmitsburg high school to make plans for a clothing and toy drive which they are sponsoring.

Collecting and repairing toys and clothing and giving them to the deserving at Christmas time is their object. It was decided that they would do some of the work at home and at the next regular Parent-Teacher meeting, the fourth Wednesday in November, they are to bring needles, thread, buttons and material to do additional work. Every Friday during the month of November, toys and clothing will be collected.

Various committees include Mrs. Wilmer Baker, Mrs. Charles Valentine, Mrs. Roy Sanders, and Mrs. John McGaughlin, who are to collect out the school road. Those collecting out on the Taneytown road area include Mrs. Roy Hess, Mrs. Elmer Fuss, Mrs. Byron Jordan, Mrs. George Cartrell and Mrs. Paul Late. Mrs. Weldon Shank, Mrs. Harry Hahn and Mrs. Clarence Hahn are in charge of collection on the Waynesboro road. The Toro's creek area is under Mrs. Webb Simmons. Mrs. Emmette Manners, Mrs. Paul Glass and Mrs. Carol Phillips, Mrs. Robert Fite and Mrs. Clara Harner, near Mutter's Station; Mrs. John Hollinger, Mrs. George Wilhide and Mrs. Andrew Byster, in Emmitsburg.

Halloween Party
Saturday evening a Halloween party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krom for their son, Johnny. Those who attended were: Patty Jean Bower, Susan Daugherty, Linda Saylor, Margaret Neighbors, Audrey Springer, Mae Bushman, Tommy Wilhide, Morris Zentz, Jr., Louis Smith, Stevie Wilhide, Tommy Bollinger and Johnny Krom. Games were played and refreshments were served to everyone.

Donald Plax, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Plax, East Main street, has returned from the Union Memorial hospital, Baltimore, after having been operated upon recently. He returned to the hospital Tuesday to have the stitches in his leg removed.

Mrs. Estelle Watkins has moved to an apartment of James T. Hays on West Main street. Mrs. Watkins had been supervisor of schools in the Tola division of the United Fruit company. She had been a resident of Honduras for the past 19 years.

Marks 90th Birthday
M. P. Shuff, Sr., celebrated his 90th birthday Wednesday at his home on Sunday, a dinner party was given in his honor by Mrs. J. W. Rowe, Mrs. Ruth Shuff, of Emmitsburg, and Miss Mary Shuff of Frederick. Those present at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shuff of Merion, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. William Shuff, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Shuff Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lumen Norris and children, "Nicky" and Becky, M. P. Shuff, and Miss Ruth Shuff.

Mr. Shuff is very active being a member of the Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, a director and the president of the Farmers' State bank in Emmitsburg. He has six children, two grandchildren: Mrs. Lumen Norris and M. P. Shuff 3rd, of Yakama, Wash., and three great-grandchildren: "Nicky" and Becky Norris and Frank Shuff 4th.

A resident of Emmitsburg the last 70 years, he retired about 20 years ago after being in the undertaking and furniture business for 50 years. Mr. Shuff was born in Graceham, Md., and lived in Thurmont for several years before moving to this community.

Yesterday afternoon a surprise party for Mr. Shuff was given in his honor by the employees of the Farmers' State bank. Those present were Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, Mrs. Alice Shorb, Frank Weant, George Wilhide and Peter Burkett. A birthday cake and ice cream were served. Mr. Shuff has been a member of the bank since it was organized in 1921 and its first vice president until 1926 when he was elected president.

TALKS GO ON

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4 (P)—In the midst of internal strike in the ranks of the United Electrical Workers, Westinghouse Electric corporation today opened a third day of talks with union negotiators. The company indicated that expulsion of the UE from the CIO, plus talk of a wide-open split in the union, would have no effect on wage talks.

INCHES OF GAS Cause Pressure on Heart

Slow digestion causes food to ferment in your stomach. Pockets of gas form (inches of it) and this gas presses upward, crowds against your heart. Then you are in misery.

Hundreds here in Gettysburg suffered that way until they got CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is taken before meals; thus it works with your food and your food digests FASTER and better, with less gas and bloating, and you get the fullest good out of your meals.

CERTA-VIN contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and iron. Therefore, it not only relieves gas; it also enriches the blood with iron and strengthens the nerves with vitamin B. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN—PEOPLES Drug Store, 25 Baltimore Street, Gettysburg, Pa.

Poultry Pointers

By FREDERICK BLOCK
What time is best to buy purpose-bred birds?

The price is usually best when neglected flocks quit laying in the fall, and spring-hatched pullets do not qualify for hen eggs. If you have a well-insulated brooder house in which chicks can be raised without exposing them to temperatures lower than 68 degrees, it will be the best time to start raising peeps in January. Sixty-eight degrees means all over the house, but not under the cover, where starting temperature has to be around 95. Such chicks, if managed well, gain more weight on less feed than later-hatched ones, and they will start laying pullet eggs in June and large eggs by August.

Purpose-bred birds descend from hens which were bred for certain favorable purposes as being rare in winter pause and broodiness, or fast.

in feathering and weight-gaining, or high in egg production. There are more purposes birds ought to be selected for as resistance to diseases such as leucosis or the more recently poultry disease, avian leukosis.

In the important so-called dual-purpose New Hampshire strains which were developed for highest egg production, and others for efficient meat production. The latter ones are not profitable layers. Breeders who improve chicks have much more overhead expenses than producers who are not involved in this costly, most difficult type of work. If you obtain peeps from improved strains, which will lay several additional dozens of eggs per year than others, you should not worry about the higher purchasing cost of such chicks. The old saying that nothing is worth more than its costs is particularly true when it comes to the buying of baby chicks. Select your source of peeps carefully for your particular purpose make sure

'KING OF HOBOES' IS BURIED TODAY

New York, Nov. 3 (P)—Flowers will nod and a violin will sing today at the funeral of Dan O'Brien, who died a hobo but not a bum.

The 91-year-old O'Brien was a man of simple tastes. He had little use for work and called himself King of the Hoboes.

When he died last Saturday, it looked like he would end up in a pauper's grave in a Potter's field. But his friends got a call yesterday from Morris Morgenstern. He did not identify himself, but pledged expenses for a decent burial for O'Brien.

He hung up and the phone rang again. It was Sammy Fuchs, owner of a Bowery cabaret.

"We cannot let Dan go to a Potter's field," Fuchs said. "I will contribute the limousines, the floral pieces and hire a violinist for the service."

So old Dan, dead but not forgotten, will go in style today from a Bellevue hospital chapel to a decent grave on Staten Island.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 3 (P)—A 30-foot fall from a roof where he was painting the spouting killed William Ritchie, 35, of Clementon. He died yesterday in West Jersey hospital several hours after the fall. Police said he lost his balance while painting the spouting on the home of a relative in Laurel Springs.

CUSTOMERS' CORNER

Question: Does your A&P give you good food at low prices?

Answer: Yes. That is why millions of American families do all their food shopping at A&P.

Question: Is A&P a monopoly?

Answer: No. We do only a small share of the nation's food business. . . . A smaller share than we did 10 years ago.

Question: Does A&P drive competitors out of business?

Answer: No. We have more competitors today than we had 10 years ago and many of our good competitors have publicly advertised their willingness and ability to compete with us.

Why, then, do the anti-trust lawyers want to put your A&P out of business?

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THOSE LITTLE EXTRAS
Life's greatest enjoyment is gained by the many little extras that are forever being thrown in, or which just creep in, unobserved, at that time. It's the little extras of time, used in intelligent reading, that make the well-informed man or woman.

It's those little extras of kindness, thoughtfulness, and encouragement that cement friendship and enrich it. The worker who is forever doing little extra efforts, for which he is not paid visibly in his pay envelope, is the one who advances, and who, by the way, keeps increasing his happiness.

Those little extras, in the shape of increased efforts toward perfection, make the artist or writer outstanding. There are too many people who say that "this will do"—and then let it go at that.

The striking and interesting personality is alive and radiating with little extras, with which one has been born, or that one has cultivated intelligently. These extras may be no more than a habitual smile, or a cultivated philosophy of life, or a showing of patience and courage under duress or sorrow, but there they are to glorify and emphasize life's values.

The little extras that we don't have to do, or give, but which we do anyway, are what contribute so much to the happiness of others.
They season life itself and are like whispered music, or the fragrance to flowers. We say of the salesman that he has "that something," but are unable to define what "that something" is. Perhaps it can honestly be stated that these little extras are what differentiate the successful from the unsuccessful salesman.

When travelling it's the little extra attention that the porter on the train, the steward on a ship, or the waiter in a restaurant gives that rounds out a satisfying experience.
The "please" and the "thank you" are little extras in politeness and appreciation—but they rate high.
They help feed the soul.

Throughout all nature are scattered these little extras—gifts of the Creator, for which no payment beyond appreciation is expected.
Flowers, the birds, the animals, trees, and the precious things hidden within the earth. The farmer who yields his scythe in the meadow gets one of those extras in the song that his sharpened blade creates—a whispered poem!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Pat on the Nose."

PLAY SPOT
Now if it's fun you're seeking, I'll tell you where to play.
The yard is wide and open and throw a ball you may.
Just whistle for your comrades and make them welcome here.
For when I hear you shouting I'll know that you are near.

If you should break a window, I'll buy another pane.
I'd rather you'd be careful, but still I'll not complain.
And, if your friends get hungry the cookies I'll supply.
To me it's peace and comfort to know that you're nearby.

Should you be fond of music—a trumpet want to blow
Then somewhere else to toot it I would not have you go.
So practice in the parlor with members of your band.
It may be noisy music, but I shall think it grand.

I want you to remember your home is meant for play.
Tis kept for love and laughter. So wear the grass away.
And scuff the rugs and carpets and never have a fear.
Tis not for noise I'll scold you if you are happy here.

S.R. GUGGENHEIM, COPPER KING,
EXPIRES AT 88

Port Washington, N. Y., Nov. 3 (AP)—Solomon R. Guggenheim, senior member of America's great mining family, died here early today at his Long Island estate, Trillora Court.
He was 88.

The multi-millionaire copper king was active in the family business until three weeks ago, when his health suddenly began to fail.

His wife, Irene, was with him when he died, and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Obre, were present. His eldest daughter, Countess Castle Stewart, was reported flying home from England.

Guggenheim was the senior member of the firm of Guggenheim Brothers, and was the last survivor of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who started the family in the mining business in North and South America.

Patron of Arts
He also was a generous art patron, and had been a collector since his marriage in 1885 to Irene M. Rothchild, a young art follower.

In 1937 he formed the Solomon R.
Guggenheim Foundation to encourage and popularize art.

As head of the family firm, Guggenheim was a director of a number of metals corporations, including Kennecott Copper, Braden Copper, Pacific Tin, and the Nevada Northern Railway Co. He also was one of the major stockholders in the huge Anaconda Copper Mining Co.

Guggenheim was born February 2, 1861, in Philadelphia, the son of a prosperous embroidery manufacturer. He was educated in the United States and Switzerland. His father early became interested in Colorado mining, and this end of the business prospered so that the sons liquidated the embroidery firm and concentrated on metals.

Funeral services have not yet been announced.

For Fatal Stabbing

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Pleading guilty to a general charge of homicide, Joseph Castell, 33, was sentenced yesterday to from three to 12 years for the fatal stabbing of his 20-year-old cousin, a fellow fish vendor.

The victim, Anthony Ippolito, was stabbed to death last March 30 in the Dock St. market.

Judge Louis E. Leinthal, who

HONORED—Peter Ivanovich Parshin, minister of machinery and instrument industry, was awarded Russia's highest decoration, The Order of Lenin. Speculation outside USSR was that he might have received it for atomic bomb work.

TAKES CARDINAL

Rome, Nov. 3 (AP)—Francesco Cardinal Marmaggi, one of the top administrators in the Vatican, died early today following a heart attack. He was 73.

Cardinal Marmaggi, elevated to the Sacred College in 1935, was prefect of the congregation of the council. He directed the application and enforcement of decrees of the Council of Trent and other church laws.

His death reduces the membership of the College of Cardinals to 54. The full membership is 70.

Cardinal Marmaggi suffered a heart attack Oct. 28 and had been in critical condition ever since. Pope Pius XII, Vatican sources said, sent his personal benediction by Giovanni Battista Montini, of the Vatican secretariat of state, after the heart attack.

HOUSE OF LORDS
CURBED AGAIN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Britain's House of Commons Monday night passed a bill which further curbs the powers of the august House of Lords, thereby gaining another notable victory in the generation-old fight between the elected representatives of "the people" and the ermine-robed nobility.

This measure restricts the Lords from holding up for more than 1 yr.
any legislation passed by Commons.
Heretofore the Lords could delay
Commons' measures for two years.

This in itself is a notable victory for Commons, but it cuts deeper than that. It opens the way for the final passage of the Commons' bill nationalizing England's huge steel industry.

One Other Way
The preponderantly Conservative Lords had agreed reluctantly to lesser measures for state ownership, but had refused to accept the steel program, which represented the high-point in the Socialist program of nationalization. Now they will have it rammed down their throats. And the government will be able to achieve this before its five-year term ends next July.

It's interesting to note that there was one other way in which Prime Minister Attlee could have beaten the Lords on this steel legislation if necessary, although it would have been an extreme measure. He could have followed the precedent set by the late Prime Minister Herbert Asquith back in 1911. This was in connection with an act which would bar the Lords from interfering with any finance bill in Commons.

The House of Lords was adamant in its refusal to make any such concession. Thereupon Asquith issued an ultimatum that either the Lords would agree or he would call upon the King to dissolve enough new Lords to insure acceptance in the Upper House. The Lords then surrendered, for the Prime Minister could have done exactly as he threatened. It is quite unlikely that the King would refuse such a request by the head of government.

Many Rarely Attend
A Prime Minister, by the way, cannot be a member of the Upper House. Only a member of Commons can hold that position. Along that line, the King himself cannot enter the House of Commons without the consent of the House.

There are 640 members of Commons and 740 Lords. Some of the Lords are hereditary, others are newly appointed by the King, and there are still other categories, including Bishops of the Church of England. Actually the majority of the Lords rarely attend the sessions, and there is growing debate in England whether it wouldn't be better to reconstitute the House of Lords by making its membership elective.
In that way it would represent the general public the same as does Commons. That at least is a solution which the Socialist party would like to see.

Wide Interest In Driscoll Campaign

Newark, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Gov.
Alfred E. Driscoll next Tuesday will try to do something no other New Jersey governor could do—succeed himself as the state's chief executive.
A decisive victory might well stamp the 47-year-old governor as a front runner for the 1952 Republican Presidential nomination.

Driscoll is the first New Jersey governor to seek the office under a new state constitution, adopted in 1947, which permits a governor to serve a second consecutive term.

His opponent in the Tuesday election is Democrat Elmer H. Wene, a onetime congressman backed by Frank "Boss" Hague, whose once all-powerful political machine has been creaking of late.

How much influence Hague still wields may determine the election, which many politicians see as a close one.

Couple Burns To Death; Sons Escape

Emporium, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—A middle aged couple burned to death in their frame home near this western Pennsylvania town today.
Their two teen-aged sons escaped with minor burns.

The victims, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, perished when a blast wrecked their blazing story and a half dwelling at Rich Valley, eight miles northwest of Emporium.
Firemen said the couple's sons,

Bennett, 15, and James, 13, told this story:
They were awakened by their mother to discover the house filled with smoke and the kitchen ablaze.
They fled out a window, but Mrs.
Snyder did not follow. Their father, who already was outside the house, reentered in search of his wife. At that moment the unexplained explosion shattered the house.
Firemen said the fire apparently began in a kitchen range. The boys were treated at St. Mary's hospital for slight burns.

Many types of bulbs for flowers, such as the tulip, should be planted in the fall before the ground freezes.
Every team in the National Hockey League won more games than it lost at home in 1948-49.

Chapter 4

"Chips," he spat, and as though he had to expel further venom he shot the car ahead with a jerk and reckless speed.

He didn't go far. The third road, the north road forked again, and a few car lengths beyond the fork he stopped. "As far as I can go," he stated. "I'll have to back down as it is."

Later she might thank him for coming to her side of the car and offering a hand to help her out. At the moment she felt he was anxious to be rid of her.

The moment she and her luggage were at the roadside his courtesy ended. True, he did lift his hat, and she glimpsed light brown hair with a single wave, but a moment later he slammed the car door and was backing down the road.

Moving in a stupor Arleta picked up her bags and began climbing the weed-grown road, catching her high heels in last summer's vines, rubbery with rain. She made a sharp turn and stopped. A gigantic pine lay across her path. Automatically she looked to the upper bank. It had been felled by a human hand, someone who wanted the road closed. She looked at the limbs from which the needles had dropped and estimated the time it had lain there.

Arleta wavered. She even looked back. And then she remembered the man's voice when he'd said, "Chips." All right! She'd been "Chips" Langtry. She'd be that again. And when had greasewood or lack of a path ever stopped that little hoyden?

She found the lowest spot on the west edge of the road, tossed her bags up and then with a run went up the side. It was like trying to run up an escalator—the steps slipped back under her—but like on an escalator she reached the top.

Eagerly she brushed through the wet greasewood until the pines began, and there she could find an occasional open space thick with needles. And finally when it seemed she would have to leave her luggage she came to the clearing and her home looked down on her.

Great rocks upheld the two-story log building, bulged out for verandas which circled north and west. From there the many windows looked bare. Her mother had doubtless packed away the draperies.

Hurrying now, wet shrubbery scratching at her, bags catching on every outstretched limb, she went on, went around to the front of the house and raced up the stone stairway to come to a sharp stop.

The door stood open.

Cautiously she approached. But the door did not stand open. There was no door, not upright. What had been the heavy object carved from a giant slab of redwood and freighted there lay hacked into a hundred pieces.

And the drapes had been torn down. And the furniture! Chairs, legs hacked off. Divans had been turned over, the upholstery slit, the filling drooping out in moldy heaps.

Lamps were smashed if they could be smashed, those of metal twisted, and such pictures as had been on the walls had been disfigured, the oil paintings seemingly cut by sharp knives.

Again she shivered and would have turned back, but Chips asserted herself. Anger arose like a hot red tide. This was more than vandalism, this was the work of hate.

Nothing had escaped, neither dishes nor rugs nor windows, and when she reached the kitchen she found the coils of the electric stove pulled out, the wires cut.

Here on the white walls, the only surface which could have revealed writing, were written epitaphs.

As the Lantry's have sown, let them reap.

"We destroy what you have stolen from your fellow men."

"May sorrow mount with your fortune."

She went into the room built for the deep freeze, slid back a panel, inserted the key she'd been sent when the property became hers and, opening the door behind the panel, went up a narrow stairway.

The last of the afternoon light lay there. And looking at it Arleta knew nothing had been touched, seemingly, since she had left. The small bed, the furniture built to the scale of a twelve-year-old. The little fireplace with its safety screen.

Candles! Arleta hurried to a tin box on the little desk and, opening it, found something more precious than jewels, for there, where storms threw trees across the wires, the primitive means of light were kept always available.

Quickly she worked against the coming darkness. Dented aluminum pans, a handled measuring cup that could be straightened enough to use. Water from the rain barrel for washing, a hurried trip to a little spring capped by a cement cover and worked by a wheel. She used almost her last strength in opening this, for it was rusted.

She stumbled on her last trip up, and when she had closed the door behind herself and slipped the latch, she went to the window to sit as she'd sat a thousand times, looking out on a world that had once been hers.

And this was what Cal Sheridan had found.

Her aunt had known about this. Her sister had known. They could have spared her the humiliation of Cal finding out had they told her. Why hadn't they? Was that why they'd kept her in the East?

And now a new emotion filled her with terror. Footsteps, sharp unafraid footsteps, sounded in the big room downstairs.

Chapter 5

A waiting silence grew until Arleta felt she would have to scream to break it. And then she heard a voice, a voice without words, and she sobbed with relief.

"Tillicum," she called. And this time the voice that was half whiny, half cat cry, raised in eagerness.

Oiled paper was ripped from a sandwich, and candle in one hand, sandwich in the other, she hurried down the narrow staircase.

At first, when she opened the door, she started back in surprise. Two shapes, one large, one tiny, had been reflected in the glow of her light; then both went on rapid feet out of the bare kitchen doorway.

"Tillicum," she called, and then her lips framed a whistle.

The larger shape ventured to the door. Of course, she reasoned. A baby deer would grow to a mature doe in the time she'd been away.

That tiny one must be her own.

She left the candle on the tile and tiptoed to the door, while the doe backed away. Then, hand stretched into the darkness with bread and lettuce, she waited. She felt the breath of the doe on her hand, then the warm muzzle made a caressing motion, and the bread was gone.

Slowly Arleta returned to her room. How had Tillicum known she was there? She probably grazed near the home she'd known in babyhood; how many times had she stood at the back door whinnying for food? The back door where she'd been fed on Pabulum.

But something had welcomed her home.

Now that she had faced the worst she asked herself what she had expected. A twelve-year-old Chips would have had better sense than to return to a house long vacant without some preparation. But then Chips hadn't lived in a world of bell pulls. There had been a servant or two, usually Indian girls from the reservation, but they had never thought of cushioning her.

Warned, she grew drowsy. She'd make her bed there before the fire. The quilts were giving up their mustiness before the open fire, and the pillows were plumping out. She'd packed with thoughts of home in her mind, and the quilted velvet robe was lined with wool. She'd get into that.

She was belting the robe when she again heard a noise below. But this had a voice, a human voice which called, "Miss Langtry. Miss Langtry!" as though it feared something.

"Miss Langtry, this is How Kelly, remember? I drove you up from the store. Miss Langtry, I must talk to you."

"Why?"

"Then you're all right? Thank heaven for that. Listen, my mother is down in the car. I hacked a path through the greasewood but she couldn't climb the cliff. She asked me to invite you to be our guest."

He had a nice voice. Ah, but it was his mother who had caused his change of heart.

"Will you thank her for me?" Arleta returned, "but I am quite comfortable. I—she sought for the words—"am home."

He spoke of wood, of food, of loneliness, and she listened without any emotion except a desire to remain there where she felt secure. And when she didn't answer he said, "Well, then Mother will have to find some way to get up the cliff. And in this storm—"

"Please tell her the trip will be useless. Good night."

There was such finality in her voice he left and she heard him stumbling down the stairway.

As she huddled over the meager flame, despair came again. Cal's scrutiny when she had met him at the depot. His eagerness to get away on the fishing trip. He'd said he hadn't visited the house. Then why had he remained away two weeks instead of one?

Pulling on leather sleepers, she padded back and forth trying to fathom the meaning of those inscriptions on the wall. As the Lantry's had sown... What had they sown? And what had their "fellow men"? And what of their wealth? They hadn't been wealthy, at least not by the standards she'd known in Virginia.

Could she learn all she needed to know within six weeks? The six weeks between now and her marriage to Cal? Could she marry him without knowing?

Back and forth, the fire dying unheeded until she was brought to a stop by footsteps and then the voice of Mr. Kelly.

"Miss Langtry, you must let me in. I've brought fuel, good husky logs, and Mother has sent over some things she feels you need. Please, for her sake."

Chips and Arleta fought a silent battle and Arleta won. Foolishly, perhaps, she trusted this man who had been so rude.

"After you've passed through the butler's pantry, take the first door to your left. I'll meet you there."

She stood on the lowest step, candle held high, the aura of its

NAVAL CHIEF SEEKS HARMONY

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman indicated today that efforts will be made to talk out troubles in the Navy before any more heads are lopped off.

The new Chief of Naval Operations, swinging into his first full day on a tough job, said there will be no great shakeup "if I have anything to say about it."

"That isn't the way to get results," he told a reporter.

Sherman will have something to say about any shakeup because he was handpicked by Secretary of the Navy Matthews to try to bring more harmony into the armed forces. They have been fussing over the roles of the Navy or Air Force in the next war, if any.

Need Pleasant Relations Sherman has the job of trying to make the admirals under him happy and at the same time trying to put relations between the Navy and her sister services on a more peaceful, friendly basis.

He took the oath of his new office yesterday at a solemn ceremony yellow gleam bringing out the blackness of her hair hanging shoulder length, the whiteness of her face, the somber shadows of her dark eyes and the beauty of the crimson robe.

Kelly stood, his arms loaded with fuel. "I'd like to paint you like that," he said in an impersonal tone. "Then you are an artist?" Hers was equally impersonal.

"In my spare time, I write mysteries. Keeps me in paint and groceries."

She preceded him up the stairway, now carrying his electric lantern as well as her candle, and she stood silently watching as he built up the fire with expert fingers.

"There," he nodded with satisfaction, turned, took the lantern and was gone. He returned with a tarpaulin-covered pile of blankets.

"One more trip."

This time he returned with a huge roaster under one arm, a basket in the other hand.

These deposited on the little nursery table, he looked around and laughed. "Good, very good. So this is the private vault where the Langtrys kept their valuables."

Scherly Arleta answered, "They considered me valuable. There was a kidnap threat. They tried to make it impregnable."

"They certainly succeeded," conceded Kelly. "What's more, their success kept the house from being burned down."

Arleta remained silent and Howard Kelly, turning to look at her, saw the bewilderment in her eyes.

Fairfield

Fairfield—A dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crouse in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crouse, who were recently married. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crouse, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Appier and son, Douglas, Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snively and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son, Thomas, Shippensburg, and Calvin Crouse, Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Fannie Brenizer, Mrs. James Neely and Mrs. Harry Pecher spent Saturday with Mrs. Pecher's father and sister, Howard Sanders and Mrs. Agatha Hamm, of Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Neely, Norfolk, Va., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neely.

The baked goods sale for the benefit of the Girl Scouts will be held Saturday, November 19, at the Scout room instead of the date announced previously.

Walter Truitt, Scranton, visited recently with Dr. and Mrs. Tra Henderson.

Nineteen members attended the Missionary meeting of the Lutheran church held Tuesday evening in the parish house. Mrs. David Sanders and Mrs. Preston Baumgardner were in charge of the discussion. Following the meeting a social hour, with Mrs. Edward Hahn and Mrs. Edgar Newman in charge, was held.

The Intermediate Girl Scout troop entertained the Cashtown troop at a Halloween social held Saturday from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the fire in Matthews' suite at the Pentagon. He said he was facing different responsibilities but knew he could count on the admirals to support him. He got a smile, a handclasp and a wish for "good luck" from Admiral Louis E. Denfeld.

It was on Matthews' suggestion that President Truman tossed Denfeld out as Chief of Naval Operations to make way for Sherman.

Denfeld has been offered the job of commander of the Eastern Atlantic-Mediterranean Fleet with headquarters in London. He hasn't said whether he will take it or retire.

company hall. Prizes were given for the most original costume and the most comical. Paul Whitmoyer led the group in "folk dancing." Halloween games were played and refreshments were served. Mrs. Taylor of Cashtown, Miss Mary Jane Wills, Mrs. Richard Cogley and Mrs. Harold Brown, troop leaders, were in attendance.

A roast turkey supper will be served Saturday evening, November 12, from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. in the Fire Company hall for the benefit of the Reformed church.

The regular meeting of the N.C.C.W. of St. Mary's church will be held Friday evening in the church social room.

A food sale will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Lutheran parish hall.

The sewing boxes made by the Intermediate Girl Scouts are on display in the window of the Scout room. For their next project the girls will make leather coin purses and wallets.

Ladies' Night was held by the local Lions club Tuesday evening. Following a roast turkey dinner a short business meeting was held with Lion President Kenneth Bream presiding. The group danced to the music of the Pecher Brothers orchestra.

Captain Donald Low has returned to Henderson Field, Tenn., after attending the funeral of his father, T. A. Low.

Mrs. James Turner, Brooklyn, Captain and Mrs. M. W. Arnold and sons, of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seabrook, Hazleton, attended the burial service of H. L. Seabrook, which was held Monday afternoon in Fairfield Union cemetery, and remained for a short visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Seabrook.

Miss Mary Harbaugh is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conrad, Waynesboro.

Mrs. Carrie Young is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carson, Fountandale.

PRICES ON HOGS SLIPPING BADLY

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Uncle Sam soon may have to add some pork meat to his hoarded groceries.

Hog prices are slipping. They are now at the lowest level in more than three years. They are not far above the point at which the agriculture department must buy pork to help hold up the farmer's price for live hogs.

Uncle Sam's hoarded groceries include eggs, milk, potatoes, grains and many other items. But there's no meat in the larder. Many livestock traders think the last thing Uncle Sam wants to do is buy meat, taking it out of the consumer's market.

However, he won't be able to help himself if prices continue to slide. The top price for hogs here yesterday was $17.00 a hundred pounds. That was the lowest since OPA ceilings were removed Oct. 15, 1946. The old ceiling was $16.25.

Stabbed By Thugs, Man Is Critical

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Stabbed in the abdomen by one of two youths who accosted him and demanded money, Paul Ackerman, Jr., 16, is reported in serious condition today in Temple University hospital.

Police said the youth walked three blocks after the stabbing yesterday before he collapsed on a sidewalk. The youth was quoted as saying his assailants demanded a nickel.

The first known manufacturer of plywood used it in 1867 to make forms for sewing machine cabinets, says the Georgia-Pacific Educational Foundation.

Heart of Happiness

Chapter 4

"Chips," he spat, and as though he had to expel further venom he shot the car ahead with a jerk and reckless speed.

He didn't go far. The third road, the north road forked again, and a few car lengths beyond the fork he stopped. "As far as I can go," he stated. "I'll have to back down as it is."

Later she might thank him for coming to her side of the car and offering a hand to help her out. At the moment she felt he was anxious to be rid of her.

The moment she and her luggage were at the roadside his courtesy ended. True, he did lift his hat, and she glimpsed light brown hair with a single wave, but a moment later he slammed the car door and was backing down the road.

Moving in a stupor Arleta picked up her bags and began climbing the weed-grown road, catching her high heels in last summer's vines, rubbery with rain. She made a sharp turn and stopped. A gigantic pine lay across her path. Automatically she looked to the upper bank. It had been felled by a human hand, someone who wanted the road closed. She looked at the limbs from which the needles had dropped and estimated the time it had lain there.

Arleta wavered. She even looked back. And then she remembered the man's voice when he'd said, "Chips."

All right! She'd been "Chips" Langtry. She'd been that again. And when had greasewood or lack of a path ever stopped that little hoyden?

She found the lowest spot on the west edge of the road, tossed her bags up and then with a run went up the side. It was like trying to run up an escalator—the steps slipped back under her—but like on an escalator she reached the top.

Eagerly she brushed through the wet greasewood until the pines began, and there she could find an occasional open space thick with needles. And finally when it seemed she would have to leave her luggage she came to the clearing and her home looked down on her.

Great rocks upheld the two-storied log building, bulged out for verandas which circled north and west. From there the many windows looked bare. Her mother had doubtless packed away the draperies.

Hurrying now, wet shrubbery scratching at her, bags catching on every outstretched limb, she went on, went around to the front of the house and raced up the stone stairway to come to a sharp stop.

The door stood open.

Cautiously she approached. But

out on a world that had once been hers.

And this was what Cal Sheridan had found.

Her aunt had known about this. Her sister had known. They could have spared her the humiliation of Cal finding out had they told her. Why hadn't they? Was that why they'd kept her in the East?

And now a new emotion filled her with terror. Footsteps, sharp, unafraid footsteps, sounded in the big room downstairs.

Chapter 5

A waiting silence grew until Arleta felt she would have to scream to break it. And then she heard a voice, a voice without words, and she sobbed with relief.

"Tillicum," she called. And this time the voice that was half whiny, half cry, raised in eagerness.

Oiled paper was ripped from a sandwich, and candle in one hand, sandwich in the other, she hurried down the narrow staircase.

At first, when she opened the door, she started back in surprise. Two shapes, one large, one tiny, had been reflected in the glow of her light; then both went on rapid feet out of the bare kitchen doorway.

"Tillicum," she called, and then her lips framed a whistle.

The larger shape ventured to the door. Of course, she reasoned. A baby deer would grow to a mature doe in the time she'd been away. That tiny one must be her own.

She left the candle on the tile and tiptoed to the door, while the doe backed away. Then, hand stretched into the darkness with bread and lettuce, she waited. She felt the breath of the doe on her hand, then the warm muzzle made a caressing motion, and the bread was gone.

Slowly Arleta returned to her room. How had Tillicum known she was there? She probably grazed near the home she'd known in babyhood; how many times had she stood at the back door whinnying for food? The back door where she'd been fed on Pabulum.

But something had welcomed her home.

Now that she had faced the worst she asked herself what she had expected. A twelve-year-old Chips would have had better sense than to return to a house long vacant without some preparation. But then Chips hadn't lived in a world of bell pulls. There had been a servant or two, usually Indian girls from the reservation, but they had never thought of cushioning her.

Warned, she grew drowsy. She'd make her bed there before the fire. The quilts were giving up their mustiness before the open fire, and the pillows were plumping out. She'd packed with thoughts of home in her mind, and the quilted velvet robe was lined with wool. She'd get

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman indicated today that efforts will be made to talk out troubles in the Navy before any more heads are lopped off.

The new Chief of Naval Operations, swinging into his first full day on a tough job, said there will be no great shakeup "if I have anything to say about it."

"That isn't the way to get results," he told a reporter.

Sherman will have something to say about any shakeup because he was handpicked by Secretary of the Navy Matthews to try to bring more harmony into the armed forces. They have been fussing over the roles of the Navy or Air Force in the next war, if any.

Need Pleasant Relations

Sherman has the job of trying to make the admirals under him happy and at the same time trying to put relations between the Navy and her sister services on a more peaceful, friendly basis.

He took the oath of his new office yesterday at a solemn ceremony yellow gleam bringing out the blackness of her hair hanging shoulder length, the whiteness of her face, the somber shadows of her dark eyes and the beauty of the crimson robe.

Kelly stood, his arms loaded with fuel. "I'd like to paint you like that," he said in an impersonal tone. "Then you are an artist?" Hers was equally impersonal.

"In my spare time, I write mysteries. Keeps me in paint and groceries."

She preceded him up the stairway, now carrying his electric lantern as well as her candle, and she stood silently watching as he built up the fire with expert fingers.

"There," he nodded with satisfaction, turned, took the lantern and was gone. He returned with a tarpaulin-covered pile of blankets.

"One more trip."

This time he returned with a huge roaster under one arm, a basket in the other hand.

These deposited on the little nursery table, he looked around and laughed. "Good, very good. So this is the private vault where the Langtrys kept their valuables."

Soberly Arleta answered. "They considered me valuable. There was a kidnap threat. They tried to make it impregnable."

"They certainly succeeded," conceded Kelly. "What's more, their success kept the house from being burned down."

Fairfield

Fairfield—A dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crouse in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crouse, who were recently married. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crouse, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Applier and son, Douglas, Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snively and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son, Thomas, Shippensburg, and Calvin Crouse, Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Fannie Brenizer, Mrs. James Neely and Mrs. Harry Pecher spent Saturday with Mrs. Pecher's father and sister, Howard Sanders and Mrs. Agatha Hamm, of Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Neely, Norfolk, Va., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neely.

The baked goods sale for the benefit of the Girl Scouts will be held Saturday, November 19, at the Scout room instead of the date announced previously.

Walter Truitt, Scranton, visited recently with Dr. and Mrs. Ira Henderson.

Nineteen members attended the Missionary meeting of the Lutheran church held Tuesday evening in the parish house. Mrs. David Sanders and Mrs. Preston Baumgardner were in charge of the discussion. Following the meeting a social hour, with Mrs. Edward Hahn and Mrs. Edgar Newman in charge, was held.

The Intermediate Girl Scout troop entertained the Cashtown troop at a Halloween social held Saturday from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the fire

PRICES ON HOGS SLIPPING BADLY

Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—Uncle Sam soon may have to add some pork meat to his hoarded groceries.

Hog prices are slipping. They are now at the lowest level in more than three years. They are not far above the point at which the agriculture department must buy pork to help hold up the farmer's price for live hogs.

Uncle Sam's hoarded groceries include eggs, milk, potatoes, grains and many other items. But there's no meat in the larder. Many livestock traders think the last thing Uncle Sam wants to do is buy meat, taking it out of the consumer's market.

However, he won't be able to help himself if prices continue to slide. The top price for hogs here yesterday was $17.00 a hundred pounds. That was the lowest since OPA ceilings were removed Oct. 15, 1946. The old ceiling was $16.25.

Stabbed By Thugs, Man Is Critical

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Stabbed in the abdomen by one of two youths who accosted him and demanded money, Paul Ackerman, Jr., 16, is reported in serious condition today in Temple University hospital.

Police said the youth walked three blocks after the stabbing yesterday before he collapsed on a sidewalk.

UNITED STATES OF INDONESIA NEWEST NATION

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

"The day of small nations has passed away; the day of empires has come."
You may have three guesses as to when that declaration was made, and by whom. Give up? Well, the famous British statesman Joseph Chamberlain made that statement in 1904 during a speech at Birmingham, England. That was only 45 years ago.

Yesterday the Dutch signed away their sovereignty to the rich Dutch East Indies over which Holland had ruled for three centuries. These brightest jewels in the imperial crown now comprise the United States of Indonesia—a republic. The 70,000,000 natives of these bounteous islands of spices and sugar and rubber and oil are taking over management of their own birthright.

Statement Reversed
Thus has the Netherlands followed the footsteps of Chamberlain's England, which rapidly has been turning her vast empire—upon which even today the sun never sets—into a commonwealth of independent nations. The Dutch move gives us further indisputable proof that we must

JOBLESS VET TURNS PICKET

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Marine Veteran Anthony Zychal, of Scranton, Pa., knows what he wants—and thinks he knows where to get it. All day yesterday he picketed Wall Street, the nation's financial center, carrying a homemade sandwich sign that read:

"Dear Wall Street, Scranton needs a heavy industry. 20,000 are jobless. We beg you to build in Scranton. Love and kisses from the people of Scranton."

Zychal, 33, says he knows what he's talking about—he's one of the jobless. "This is my heart-to-heart communication," he said. "No one knows I came here, not even my mother. I was up to 2 a. m., painting these signs. I didn't sleep much, I was so excited."

Zychal, who draws $11 a month for a war injury, came here on the train from Scranton dressed in his best—tan topcoat and brown homburg.

He picketed from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and instead of being laughed at—as he feared—he found people "friendly and sympathetic." One man even offered to find him a job in New York.

"I told him I wanted to work in Scranton," Zychal said. "My mother's pretty old and she needs me."

reverse Chamberlain's statement and note that "the day of empires has passed away; the day of small nations has come."

The historic agreement between the Dutch and the Indonesians was signed at The Hague. Under that pact, which is subject to approval of the Dutch and Indonesian parliaments, the new republic becomes a sovereign part of the Dutch commonwealth which is linked together by the crown. The union is similar to the British commonwealth.

On one important point the Indonesians were disappointed. They had wanted to include the Dutch portion of the great island of New Guinea in the republic. The Dutch opposed the transfer and finally the matter was compromised on the basis that Holland should retain control of the New Guinea territory for another year, pending further discussions as to its ultimate disposition. The eastern part of New Guinea is of course occupied by Australia.

Natives Are Aborigines

New Guinea, the world's third largest island, is a wild area, much of which is covered with the world's most horrid jungle. This jungle is a hell-hole, filled with more forms of evil death than a madman could conjure up—poisonous snakes and insects and plants and man-killing animals; over a large part of this nightmare, nature has imposed a Turkish-bath climate.

The natives of New Guinea are aborigines, among the most primitive left on the globe.

So why the yearning for this territory by both Indonesia and the Dutch? Well, it seems that nature played a trick on mankind. She concealed great wealth in the earth of New Guinea—minerals and oil—and then set some of her most evil forces to guard the treasure. New Guinea already is known to hold great riches, and portions of it still remain to be explored.

Year Old Girl Is Stricken With Polio

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—A one-year-old girl is the sixth poliomyelitis victim reported in the Conshohocken area during a current outbreak.

The case of Sandra McFarland was diagnosed as polio at Montgomery hospital yesterday. She became ill Tuesday.

Two of the other five cases have

The big problem, he explained is "to get the teacher down to the pupil. German custom has placed the teacher on a high level, far above the student. Under the German system a teacher enters a class, lectures and leaves. There is no possibility of discussion between teacher and student, and no meeting between them."

Forty-one teachers and wives from Adams and Franklin counties attended the session. The next meeting of the agriculture teachers will be held November 30 at Chambersburg when the teachers will score FFA project books and select the county's entries in the annual state FFA project contest.

Bolivian Pilot's Condition Worse

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Erick Rios Bridoux, Bolivian pilot involved in the tragic air collision of Tuesday, has taken a turn for the worse.

The Alexandria, Va., hospital said today he has developed a lung congestion and is in an oxygen tent. Doctors had feared the possibility of pneumonia.

Rios Bridoux suffered a fractured spine, two broken ribs and lacerations of the head in the collision of his fighter plane with an Eastern Air Line passenger plane.

He was the sole survivor of the crash. Fifty-five aboard the airliner were killed. Bolivian embassy officials said someone told the pilot yesterday that his plane hit a passenger liner and that a lot of people were killed.

Seek Clues To Cause Of Collision Of Air Liner And Fighter Plane; Fatal To 55

WRECKAGE OF BOLIVIAN SHIP TO BE STUDIED

By JERRY KORN

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Navy divers dredging up the rubble of history's worst airplane crash from the bottom of the Potomac river turned their attention today to the Bolivian fighter plane which caused the disaster.

Officials hoped to find in the battered remnants of the P-38 some clue to the cause of its collision Tuesday with an Eastern Airlines passenger plane. The collision caused the death of 55 persons and left only the Bolivian pilot still alive.

The divers, slogging along the muddy river bed in ooze up to their waists, succeeded late yesterday in freeing the front end of the DC-4 transport.

Seek More Bodies

Workers continued grappling along the bottom—35 feet deep at that point—for the three victims still not accounted for.

The Navy said it planned to turn next to a search for the Bolivian plane. There has been speculation that radio trouble in the P-38 was to blame for its failure to heed repeated warnings from the tower to stay out of the transport's way.

The fighter's pilot, Bolivian Aviation Director Erick Rios Brindoux, rested in an Alexandria, Va., hospital with a fractured spine and two broken ribs. He was still unaware of all that had happened since he entered the National Airport traffic pattern for a landing Tuesday.

Lawmakers pressed their demands for a thorough investigation of the tragedy, and the Civil Aeronautics Board announced a six-man panel to start hearings May German Pol, chief of operations of the Bolivian Air Force was named an observer at the CAB inquiry.

For earlier told a reporter that Rios Brindoux had ordered a new radio installed in the P-38 over the week-end, after expressing dissatisfaction with the old one.

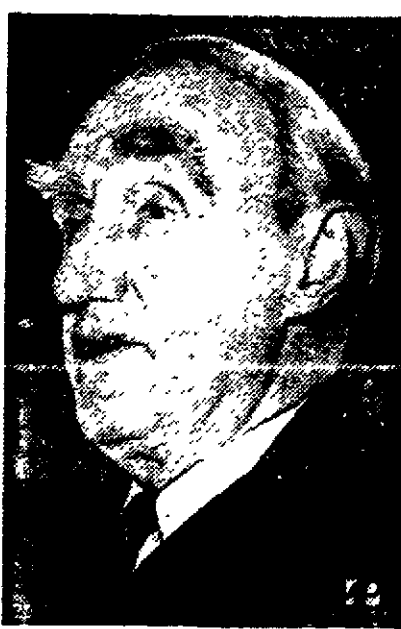

Thieves May Be Hold Meetings

Camden, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Are the thieves holding business meetings these days?

Joseph C. Nettleton, business agent for Local 56, AFL-Meat and Cannery Workers, reported to police yesterday that someone broke into his parked car and stole a gavel given him by fellow union members. Also taken, Nettleton said, was a six-inch square ebony sounding board—used to produce a bigger bang with the gavel.

Scientists have estimated that in six months the progeny of a single pair of houseflies could exceed 100 quintillion.

GOVERNMENT MAY STEP IN ON COAL STRIKE

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Reports that the government may soon step into the coal strike revived today with word that Indiana operators have refused separate peace talks with John L. Lewis.

One highly-placed official closely watching the steel-coal strike crisis said: "We can't let Lewis go much beyond this week-end."

He indicated that unless there is some progress toward settling the 46-day coal strike the government will invite Lewis and operators to Washington negotiations, probably some time next week.

Indiana Plan Rejected
Failure of such federal talks would put the coal problem up to President Truman. Up to now Mr. Truman has held that neither the coal nor steel strikes has reached the national emergency stage.

The Indiana operators last night turned down a proposal of Gov. Henry Schricker, of Indiana, for a separate coal pact covering that state. Lewis had accepted the idea, saying he could submit any tentative offer to his union's policy committee at its meeting in Chicago Monday.

The Indiana operators discussed the idea and rejected it. This evident decision to stick to industry-wide bargaining was a blow to Lewis' strategy to make a separate deal with Indiana or Illinois mine operators in hopes the rest of the soft coal industry would go along.

An appeal similar to Governor Schricker's was made by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, of Illinois. But Stevenson confined himself to a plea to both sides for a quick peace plan.

Minnesota's Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl also called for an end to the strike, but he addressed his appeal to President Truman.

The only coal negotiations that have been going on of late—between the miners' union and southern operators—were broken off yesterday by the operators. UMW talks with northern and western operators ended without result last month.

Joseph E. Moody, said at Bluefield,

EMERGENCY AID FOR STRIKERS

Clairton, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—Clairton's city fathers have set up a relief fund for the families of the town's 5,000 striking steelworkers.

At a special session yesterday, city council voted unanimously to appropriate $50,000 as an emergency relief fund. The program will start on Monday.

Mayor John J. Mullen said the action was taken because a number of strikers' families reported "they have no means of meeting food."

W. Va., that to continue their talks after five months of getting nowhere would do no good.

The steel workers are employed in Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation mills here.

"Our program will be a sort of loan to our people," said Mayor Mullen. "Each applicant will promise in a signed statement that he will repay the money when he can. If the workers are unable to repay in cash, plans will be made for them to work it out for the city."

STICKERS COMING SOON
Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—Many service stations throughout the state have not received their new auto inspection stickers for the three-month period which opened Tuesday. Arthur G. Burgoyne, deputy revenue secretary, said today all inspection stations should have their full allotment of 8,000,000 stickers "within a week or 10 days."

UNITED STATES OF INDONESIA NEWEST NATION

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

"The day of small nations has passed away; the day of empires has come."

You may have three guesses as to when that declaration was made, and by whom. Give up? Well, the famous British statesman Joseph Chamberlain made that statement in 1904 during a speech at Birmingham, England. That was only 45 years ago.

Yesterday the Dutch signed away their sovereignty to the rich Dutch East Indies over which Holland had ruled for three centuries. These brightest jewels in the imperial crown now comprise the United States of Indonesia—a republic. The 70,000,000 natives of these bounteous islands of spices and sugar and rubber and oil are taking over management of their own birthright.

Statehood Reversed

Thus has the Netherlands followed the footsteps of Chamberlain's England, which rapidly has been turning her vast empire—upon which even today the sun never sets—into a commonwealth of independent nations. The Dutch move gives us further indisputable proof that we must

JOBLESS VET TURNS PICKET

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Marine Veteran Anthony Zychal, of Scranton, Pa., knows what he wants—and thinks he knows where to get it. All day yesterday he picketed Wall Street, the nation's financial center, carrying a homemade sandwich sign that read:

"Dear Wall Street. Scranton needs a heavy industry. 20,000 are jobless. We beg you to build in Scranton. Love and kisses from the people of Scranton."

Zychal, 33, says he knows what he's talking about—he's one of the jobless. "This is my heart-to-heart communication," he said. "No one knows I came here, not even my mother. I was up to 2 a. m. painting these signs. I didn't sleep much, I was so excited."

Zychal, who draws $11 a month for a war injury, came here on the train from Scranton dressed in his best—tan topcoat and brown homburg.

He picketed from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and instead of being laughed at—as he feared—he found people "friendly and sympathetic." One man even offered to find him a job in New York.

"I told him I wanted to work in Scranton," Zychal said. "My mother's pretty old and she needs me."

reverse Chamberlain's statement and note that "the day of empires has passed away; the day of small nations has come."

The historic agreement between the Dutch and the Indonesians was signed at The Hague Under that pact, which is subject to approval of the Dutch and Indonesian parliaments, the new republic becomes a sovereign part of the Dutch commonwealth which is linked together by the crown. The union is similar to the British commonwealth.

On one important point the Indonesians were disappointed. They had wanted to include the Dutch portion of the great island of New Guinea in the republic. The Dutch opposed the transfer and finally the matter was compromised on the basis that Holland should retain control of the New Guinea territory for another year, pending further discussions as to its ultimate disposition. The eastern part of New Guinea is of course occupied by Australia.

Natives Are Aborigines

New Guinea, the world's third largest island, is a wild area, much of which is covered with the world's most horrifying jungle. This jungle is a hell-hole, filled with more forms of evil death than a madman could conjure up—poisonous snakes and insects and plants and man-killing animals; over a large part of this nightmare, nature has imposed a Turkish-bath climate.

The natives of New Guinea are aborigines, among the most primitive left on the globe.

So why the yearning for this territory by both Indonesia and the Dutch? Well, it seems that nature played a trick on mankind. She concealed great wealth in the earth of New Guinea—minerals and oil—and then set some of her most evil forces to guard the treasure. New Guinea already is known to hold great riches, and portions of it still remain to be explored.

The big problem, he explained is "to get the teacher down to the pupil. German custom has placed the teacher on a high level, far above the student. Under the German system a teacher enters a class, lectures and leaves. There is no possibility of discussion between teacher and student, and no meeting between them."

Forty-one teachers and wives from Adams and Franklin counties attended the session. The next meeting of the agriculture teachers will be held November 30 at Chambersburg when the teachers will score FFA project books and select the county's entries in the annual state FFA project contest.

Bolivian Pilot's Condition Worse

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—Erick Rios Broudo, Bolivian pilot involved in the tragic air collision of Tuesday, has taken a turn for the worse.

The Alexandria, Va., hospital said today he has developed a lung congestion and is in an oxygen tent. Doctors had feared the possibility of pneumonia.

Rios Broudo suffered a fractured spine, two broken ribs and lacerations of the head in the collision of his fighter plane with an Eastern Air Line passenger plane.

He was the sole survivor of the crash. Fifty-five aboard the airliner were killed. Bolivian embassy officials said someone told the pilot yesterday that his plane hit a passenger liner and that a lot of people were killed.

JAIL BREAKER SURRENDERS TO AGENTS OF FBI

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—Jack Tatum, 28, wavy-haired desperado who dodged a storm of bullets and broke jail at Phoenix, Ariz., today faced a trip back to the same barred lodgings.

Unarmed and broke, he surrendered meekly late Tuesday to FBI men who spotted him on a little-traveled downtown street.

Tatum and four other prisoners started the break in the Maricopa county jail early the morning of October 22. Only Tatum finished it.

Two of his buddies, Charles Edward Corcoran, 33, and Edward McEwen, 32, died on a stairway. They were shot by a crippled watchman, Tom Stowe. The other two, Dinzel McDonald and John Bridges, staggered out of a cloud of tear gas with their hands up.

A shot from a pistol seized by the jail breakers pierced Deputy Sheriff O. Z. Alford's mouth in the melee.

The five men got loose in the five-story court house building by jumping Jailer W. A. Millett as he entered their top-floor cell with aspirin. They locked him up.

Live In Hobo Jungle

Tatum made it to the ground floor and slid out a window.

Then, he told FBI Agent D. K. Brown, he fled to a citrus grove near Phoenix and hid there four days, living off oranges and grapefruit.

Tatum said he registered in a small hotel as Joe Parker. Yesterday, with only 20 cents left in his pocket, he was walking on the nearly-deserted street, which runs close to railroad tracks, trying to figure a way to get to Tulsa, Okla.

HOLLAND ENDS RULE IN INDIES

The Hague, The Netherlands, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Dutch and Indonesian governments have signed agreements to end Holland's 300-year rule of her rich East Indies colonies.

The long-discussed agreements create a new, independent nation of 70,000,000 Asians, the Republic of the United States of Indonesia. The republic will be linked to the Dutch Crown as an equal partner in a new Dutch-Indonesian Union, somewhat similar to the British commonwealth.

Dutch, Indonesians and United Nations councilors hope the pact will end the four years of warfare that have denied the world much of rich Indonesia's rubber, oil, sugar, spices and other raw materials.

In a final plenary session concluding a 10-week round table conference, the Dutch and leaders of two Indonesian groups signed a resolution to transfer sovereignty to the Indonesians.

The resolution must be ratified by the Dutch and Indonesian parliaments.

The Netherlands-Indonesian Union—whose legal bonds are tighter than those holding together the British commonwealth—provides for limited Dutch and Indonesian co-operation in foreign relations, defense, economic and cultural matters.

AGONY OF ACID STOMACH AND ULCERS RELIEVED AT ONCE!

MAKE THIS FREE TRIAL OF GARWOOD'S TABLETS

Don't neglect HARMFUL stomach acids. These excess, nauseating acids are a real danger inside of you. Not only do they make your food sour and indigestible, but they also eat into the lining of your stomach. Your organs become swollen and bloated. Your stomach is a nauseating, gassy mass. Your whole system can be affected by excess stomach acids. For acid is nature's danger signal! A warning to beware of toxic infections, muscular aches, colds, constipation and other unhealthy conditions which you become susceptible to when excess stomach acids enter your system!

Begin Fighting Symptoms At Once!

But be careful. Don't use cheap, untried "alkalizers." Begin NOW to use D. J. Garwood's Private Formula. You can be certain that only pure medicaments are used in this unusual tablet.

One of these ingredients works almost immediately. Right from the first tablet it acts to relieve the horrible burning of stomach acids.

Convicted Second Time For Murder

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Joseph D. Chambers, 25, is under a first degree murder conviction for the second time today in the robbery-slaying of a 65-year-old widower.

Chambers first was convicted last March in the death of Joseph Aturno who was robbed and slain last November 8. He won a new trial on grounds that prejudicial remarks had been made before the jury.

The commonwealth charged Chambers and Edward J. Bryant, 25, of Steelton, Pa., drank wine with Aturno, then beat him to death with a hammer and poker and robbed him.

They divided $2 taken from their victim after the slaying.

The first patent for the coaxial cable, designed for television relay, was filed on May 23, 1929. It was not until October 5, 1936, that the first circuit, from New York to Philadelphia, was opened for tests.

Lush Promises of Sudden Health

MUCH of the advertising on subjects pertaining to health which we see and hear these days is misleading. Investigation will prove that many advertisers of medicinal products have no training in medicine, pharmacy, or chemistry. Thousands of dollars are wasted every year on asthma cures, oral treatments for diabetes, cancer remedies, and countless other nostrums. Please remember that there are no secrets in clinical medicine. As soon as the value of a remedy is satisfactorily proved, it becomes the common knowledge of all physicians. Don't be misled. When you need medical care, consult your own physician. When he writes a prescription, bring it to us to be filled.

INDIA NEXT ON RED TIMETABLE, DIPLOMATS SAY

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The sweeping success of the Communist armies in China has set the chancelleries of the Western world to pondering whether the victories are likely to halt at China's frontiers or whether they may try to spread the Red ism by invasion of neighboring countries.

Secretary of State Acheson has expressed concern that the Reds might strike beyond China. However, many diplomats take the view that the Communists won't invade other nations militarily but will depend on fifth column offensives, with perhaps later infiltration by guerrillas.

Whatever may be the procedure, of this I think we may be sure: Moscow is bound to take advantage of the Communist successes in China to try to spread Bolshevism throughout the Far East.

Naturally thoughts immediately turn to Burma and to the Indian peninsula, which comprises the nations of India and Pakistan. This vast territory contains more than 400,000,000 people—close to a fifth of the globe's population.

The Chinese Nationalists still hold that part of western China adjoining Burma. But should the Communist armies capture this Chinese territory they would have direct communication with Burma and thence with India.

It is hard to believe that the Chinese Communists would venture any military invasion of Burma and India. It is equally hard to believe that they wouldn't intensify their already vigorous efforts to convert these countries to the Red ism. There already are Communist parties on the Indian peninsula and in Burma.

Actually the efforts to Communize India stretch back as far as the revolution of 1917 which brought Bolshevism to power in Russia.

Religion Is Obstacle

Despite this generation-long crusade, Communism never has made great headway in Pakistan or India. In Burma, on the other hand the Reds have made considerable progress, though just how substantial that progress may be is questionable.

The Burmese are great individualists, and I think we may assume that any lasting Communism there would be of the Tito variety.

That same thing is true of both Pakistan and India. They are intensely nationalistic.

Apart from this intense nationalism, there is another element which stands against ready acceptance of Communism in that part of the world. This is religion, which is to Communism what oil is to water. They don't mix. Pakistan of course

New Oxford

New Oxford—G. Mervin Spangler, with his 12-year-old son, George, has returned from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Harry Rowland and family, Kingston, N. Y. Mrs. Rowland is the former Miss Jane M. Spangler. Mr. Spangler's wife is spending the month in California with an elder daughter, Mrs. Gene Huggins, formerly Miss Harriet Ann Spangler.

Miss Katie Wagner, who has spent several weeks at the convalescent home of Mrs. J. S. Kuhn, east of town, recuperating from a fractured vertebra, has recovered sufficiently to spend some time with relatives at Table Rock.

A daughter, their sixth child, was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Moore. Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Elizabeth Weaver.

The local Lions club met during the past week at the Cross Keys Diner, east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith recently marked their silver wedding anniversary with a celebration prepared for them at their home as a surprise by relatives and friends. Mr. Smith and his wife, formerly Miss Lillian Pentz, Hanover, are the parents of two daughters and two sons, and be-is largely Mohammedan, and the Moslems take their religion seriously. India is mainly Hindu and much the same is true there. There is a similar situation in the rest of southeast Asia.

came grandparents for the first time during the summer when Charles and Marie Smith Graft announced the birth of Stephanie Ann. The Smiths' elder son, Richard, is a Navy veteran, and the younger, Robert, holds a position in Washington, D. C. The younger daughter, Shirley, is a student at the Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown.

The senior class of the local high school is preparing to present its class dramatic performance at the auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, November 10 and 11, for the public.

Members of the local Garden club tendered a Halloween party during the past week to the women inmates of the Adams county home.

Mrs. George W. Dunstan, who has been quite ill for the past two months and spent several weeks of that time in the Warner hospital, is steadily improving and is now able to be downstairs although not yet permitted to walk.

A Halloween dance, open to the public, was conducted Friday evening at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the senior class. Music was by the high school orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Smith recently spent more than a week on a trip to New England and Canada, and shortly after their return, went with other members of their family to Hagerstown where Mrs.

Smith's aunt, Mrs. Francis Strassbaugh, formerly of this area, has been seriously ill for several months during the past year, is now considerably improved.

Mrs. Clair Stagle entertained fellow members of the Ladies Aid society of the First Lutheran church at her home during the week.

Mrs. Clair Lookenbill opened her home to members of the local home economics group during the past week.

New Oxford

New Oxford—G. Mervin Spangler, with his 12-year-old son, George, has returned from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Harry Rowland and family, Kingston, N. Y. Mrs. Rowland is the former Miss Jane M. Spangler. Mr. Spangler's wife is spending the month in California with an elder daughter, Mrs. Gene Huggins, formerly Miss Harriet Ann Spangler.

Miss Katie Wagner, who has spent several weeks at the convalescent home of Mrs. J. S. Kuhn, east of town, recuperating from a fractured vertebra, has recovered sufficiently to spend some time with relatives at Table Rock.

A daughter, their sixth child, was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Moore. Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Elizabeth Weaver.

The local Lions club met during the past week at the Cross Keys Diner, east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith recently marked their silver wedding anniversary with a celebration prepared for them at their home as a surprise by relatives and friends. Mr. Smith and his wife, formerly Miss Lillian Pentz, Hanover, are the parents of two daughters and two sons, and became grandparents for the first time during the summer when Charles and Marie Smith Graft announced the birth of Stephanie Ann. The Smiths' elder son, Richard, is a Navy veteran, and the younger, Robert, holds a position in Washington, D. C. The younger daughter, Shirley, is a student at the Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown.

The senior class of the local high school is preparing to present its class dramatic performance at the auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, November 10 and 11, for the public.

Members of the local Garden club tendered a Halloween party during the past week to the women inmates of the Adams county home.

Mrs. George W. Dunstan, who has been quite ill for the past two months and spent several weeks of that time in the Warner hospital, is steadily improving and is now able to be downstairs although not yet permitted to walk.

A Halloween dance, open to the public, was conducted Friday evening at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the senior class. Music was by the high school orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Smith recently spent more than a week on a trip to New England and Canada, and shortly after their return, went with other members of their family to Hagerstown where Mrs.

Smith's aunt, Mrs. Francis Strassbaugh, formerly of this area, has been gravely ill. Mrs. Smith, who was seriously ill for several months during the past year, is now considerably improved.

Mrs. Clair Slagle entertained fellow members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Lutheran church at her home during the week.

Mrs. Clair Lookenbill opened her home to members of the local home economics group during the past week.

JAIL BREAKER SURRENDERS TO AGENTS OF FBI

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3 (AP)—Jack Tatum, 28, wavy-haired desperado who dodged a storm of bullets and broke jail at Phoenix, Ariz., today faced a trip back to the same barred lodgings.

Unarmed and broke, he surrendered meekly late Tuesday to FBI men who spotted him on a little-traveled downtown street.

Tatum and four other prisoners started the break in the Maricopa county jail early the morning of October 22. Only Tatum finished it.

Two of his buddies, Charles Edward Corcoran, 33, and Edward McEwen, 32, died on a stairway. They were shot by a crippled watchman, Tom Stowe. The other two, Dinzel McDonald and John Bridges, staggered out of a cloud of tear gas with their hands up.

A shot from a pistol seized by the jail breakers pierced Deputy Sheriff O. Z. Alford's mouth in the melee.

The five men got loose in the five-story court house building by jumping Jailer W. A. Millett as he entered their top-floor cell with asprin. They locked him up.

Live In Hobo Jungle

Tatum made it to the ground floor and slid out a window.

Then, he told FBI Agent D. K. Brown, he fled to a citrus grove near Phoenix and hid there four days, living off oranges and grapefruit.

Finally, he caught a freight train to Tucson, Ariz., and lived four days in a hobo jungle. He arrived in El Paso early last Sunday on a bus from Tucson.

Tatum said he registered in a small hotel as Joe Parker. Yesterday, with only 20 cents left in his pocket, he was walking on the nearly-deserted street, which runs close to railroad tracks, trying to figure a way to get to Tulsa, Okla.

HOLLAND ENDS RULE IN INDIES

The Hague, The Netherlands, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Dutch and Indonesian governments have signed agreements to end Holland's 300-year rule of her rich East Indies colonies.

The long-discussed agreements create a new, independent nation of 70,000,000 Asians, the Republic of the United States of Indonesia. The republic will be linked to the Dutch Crown as an equal partner in a new Dutch-Indonesian Union, somewhat similar to the British commonwealth.

Dutch, Indonesians and United Nations councilors hope the pact will end the four years of warfare that have denied the world much of rich Indonesia's rubber, oil, sugar, spices and other raw materials.

In a final plenary session concluding a 10-week round table conference, the Dutch and leaders of two Indonesian groups signed a resolution to transfer sovereignty to the Indonesians.

The resolution must be ratified by the Dutch and Indonesian parliaments.

The Netherlands-Indonesian Union—whose legal bonds are tighter than those holding together the British commonwealth—provides for limited Dutch and Indonesian co-operation in foreign relations, defense, economic and cultural matters.

Convicted Second Time For Murder

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)—Joseph D. Chambers, 25, is under a first degree murder conviction for the second time today in the robbery-slaying of a 65-year-old widower.

Chambers first was convicted last March in the death of Joseph Aturro who was robbed and slain last November 8. He won a new trial on grounds that prejudicial remarks had been made before the jury.

The commonwealth charged Chambers and Edward J. Bryant, 25, of Steelton, Pa., drank wine with Aturro, then beat him to death with a hammer and poker and robbed him.

They divided $2 taken from their victim after the slaying.

Lush Promises of Sudden Health

Much of the advertising on subjects pertaining to health which we see and hear these days is misleading. Investigation will prove that many advertisers of medicinal products have no training in medicine, pharmacy, or chemistry. Thousands of dollars are wasted every year on asthma cures, oral treatments for diabetes, cancer remedies, and countless other nostrums. Please remember that there are no secrets in clinical medicine. As soon as the value of a remedy is satisfactorily proved, it becomes the common knowledge of all physicians. Don't be misled. When you need medical care, consult your own physician. When he writes a prescription, bring it to us to be filled.

AGONY OF ACID STOMACH AND ULCERS RELIEVED AT ONCE!
MAKE THIS FREE TRIAL OF GARWOOD'S TABLETS
Don't neglect HARMFUL stomach acids. There excess, nauseating acids are a real danger inside of you. Not only do they make your food sour and indigestible, but they also eat into the lining of your stomach. Your organs become swollen and bloated. Your stomach is a nauseating, passy mass.
Your whole system can be affected by excess stomach acids. For acid is nature's danger signal! A warning to beware of toxic infections, muscular aches, colds, constipation and other unhealthy conditions which you become susceptible to when excess stomach acids enter your system!
Begin Fighting Symptoms At Once!
But be careful. Don't use cheap, untried "kaleblers." Begin NOW to use D. J. Garwood's Private Formula. You can be certain that only pure medicaments are used in this unusual tablet.
One of these ingredients works almost immediately. Right from the first tablet it acts to relieve the horrible burning of stomach acids.

Another of its properties carries the anti-acid action into the intestinal tract. And still another protects the delicate and irritated membranes by a pain-relieving coating action.
D. J. Garwood's Private Formula is available in handy tablets. It has included in it an ingredient which helps Nature herself to alkalize your stomach content and bring prompt symptomatic relief. That is why this formula has such amazing results. You, too, can join that vast group who have found it possible — after many years — to enjoy a normal meal, without extreme pain symptoms.
NOW D. J. GARWOOD'S TABLETS ARE OFFERED ON A MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE !!
Prove the power of this amazing formula yourself — without risking one cent. Go to a Drug Store, and ask for the 33-day treatment of D. J. Garwood's Tablets. Follow carefully the instructions for 15 days. At the end of that time, you must be satisfied — no matter how long, or for how many years you have suffered — or every penny will be refunded at the very store from which you purchased them.
HELP YOURSELF! Get D. J. Garwood's Private Formula Tablets today!

TRUMAN MAY ASK FOR BIG TAX INCREASE

Washington, Nov. 3 (P)—President Truman may have to ask Congress for an increase of 25 per cent or more in some taxes if he wants to balance the budget that way, government figures showed today.

Despite advance notice of opposition in Congress, Mr. Truman has indicated he will ask for more revenues. He says it is necessary to help cover the $5,500,000,000 in red ink spending he has estimated for the year ending next June 30.

To raise even that amount of additional revenue, congressional experts said Mr. Truman probably will be forced to ask for sharp increases in individual and corporation income taxes.

Need Big Increases

These taxes represent about three-fourths of the $28,000,000,000 in revenue the treasury expects to take in the current year, while it is paying out a total estimated by the President at $43,500,000,000.

Many members of Congress have made it plain that they don't favor any increase in taxes. In fact, the Senate Finance committee voted during the last session to cut excise levies but the issue never saw action in the Senate.

Congressional experts figure it would take an across the board increase of about 18 per cent in individual and corporation income taxes to produce the budget-balancing $5,500,000,000.

Pa. Child Welfare Conference Nov. 7

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (P)—A statewide child welfare conference will be held here November 7 by three commonwealth agencies to lay plans for dealing with Pennsylvania's youth problems.

Dr. Charlotte E. Grave, director of the Child Research Clinic, Woods School, Langhorne, will be in charge of the meeting sponsored by the Department of Health, Public Instruction and Welfare.

"Pennsylvania's exceptional children and special children must be taken care of as well as those more fortunate," said Dr. Grave in issuing invitations to hundreds of educators, physicians, public health, and welfare workers and others.

Gov. James H. Duff will head the speakers at the meeting called to discuss the need for specifically laying plans to deal with Pennsylvania's physically or mentally handicapped children.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (P)—The coroner's office today sought the bulk of a modest fortune believed left by a 73-year-old retired mail clerk whose body was found in his home a week after death. Some $20,000 was found yesterday when investigators, acting upon information from neighbors and friends of Patrick P. Leonard, drilled open a small safe in the old man's house.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 a. m. at the J. W. Little and son funeral home, Littlestown, for Cecil B. LeFevre, 67, West Chestnut street, Hanover, who died Monday at 3:30 a. m. at the Waltersdorff Convalescent home, Hanover, where he had been a patient for three weeks. The deceased was a native of Littlestown and moved to Hanover during his youth. Services were in charge of the Rev. Nevil E. Smith, pastor of Emmanuel's Reformed church, Hanover. Interment was in the Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. His four brothers, Lloyd, J. Clyde, Karl G. and Earl R. LeFevre, served as pallbearers.

Four members of the senior class in English in Littlestown Junior-Senior high school, Miss LeOra Held, teacher, will broadcast over radio station WCHA, Chambersburg, Friday from 1:15 to 1:25 p. m. A national poets' quiz from 19th Century American poets will be conducted. Members of the class who will broadcast are Robert Snyder, Gloria Warner, Eleanor Harner and Charlotte Yingling.

A hat social will be conducted by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, at their monthly meeting to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the post home, West King street. Refreshment committee for the evening includes Otis Weaver, Mary Wintrose, Irene Redding, Ruth Newman, Ruth Dooley, Doris King and Annabelle Ohler.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion will be held tonight at 8 p. m. in the post home, East King street. This will be a bonus rally meeting. Meetings for the month of November have been advanced one week due to Thanksgiving.

A Halloween party was held Monday evening in the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion post home, East King street, by the ladies' auxiliary. The room was appropriately decorated for the season. Games were enjoyed by all and refreshments were served. Prizes were awarded for the following costumes: prettiest, Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim; ugliest, Mrs. F. J. Will; most original, Mrs. Harry Long; last person to be guessed, Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz. The committee in charge of this event included Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Vernon Study, Mrs. Richard Long and Mrs. Harry Long. The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held in the post home on Wednesday, November 9, when a paper demonstration will be held. Hostess committee for the meeting will be Mrs. Noah C. Snyder, Mrs. Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim and Mrs. Robert B. Wareheim.

Cleveland, Nov. 3 (P)—The CIO convention's right wing Wednesday snowed under all opposition and amended the CIO constitution to bar Communists from top offices and authorized the executive board to expel pro-Communist unions.

The convention also boosted the per capita tax paid by its unions to the CIO from eight cents to 10 cents per member per month—a move which would add one million dollars to the treasury for the big organizing war ahead.

Washington, Nov. 3 (P)—President Truman formally appointed Forrest P. Sherman as chief of naval operations Wednesday. His main immedi-

SUSPEND GUARD IN PRISON BREAK

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 3 (P)—An unidentified guard was suspended for "violation of prison regulations" as the Attorney General's office pressed an intensive investigation of the escape last week of eight prisoners from the Newcastle county workhouse.

Warden Elwood H. Wilson declined to name the guard but said he will remain under suspension until the investigation is complete. Wilson also announced all visitors would be barred from the prison.

Until further notice, Wilson said yesterday, only persons employed at the prison or connected officially with the assignment Sherman moves up from vice admiral to full admiral. He is subject to Senate confirmation in both the new post and the new rank.

Says "Exposures" Were "Wholesome"

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 3 (P)—The "five percenter" exposures in Washington were wholesomely effective, despite administration efforts to "belittle" the accomplishments of investigations that took place, a Washington correspondent said here Wednesday.

Bert Andrews, chief correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune in Washington, said the recent investigations caused this question to be asked the country over: "Can a man be five per cent a bad apple?" with the investigation will be admitted.

"This is to prevent spreading rumors among prison inmates and thereby leading to unrest," Wilson added.

Meanwhile federal warrants were issued against the three prisoners still at large. They charge theft of an automobile abandoned in Pennsylvania after the break. The prisoners as yet uncaptured are Willie Edwards, 23, Satusma, Ala.; Joseph A. Lankford, 25, Bellefonte, Del., and Edward J. Hardy, 23, Gloucester, Mass.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Arthur Diehl, son of Mrs. Bessie Diehl, has enlisted in the air corps for four years. He expected to be sent to San Antonio, Texas.

The Women's Missionary society of Emmanuel Reformed church will hold their annual thank-offering service this evening at 7:30 at which time a movie, "The Plainsman," will be shown. The meeting is open to the public.

St. John's Lutheran Sunday school held a Rally Day service on Sunday morning. A special program was rendered. The attendance was about 275.

The Youth association held a Halloween party for the children of the town in the fire company hall Monday night.

VETERANS—VOTERS

We believe that one of the most effective ways to fight un-Americanism is to bring it out into the open and expose those who take part in tearing down our most cherished obligations and duties as citizens.

While all the major, recognized veterans' organizations in Pennsylvania have publicly announced in favor of the bonus, as have the two great political parties, a few so-called leaders of the Democratic Party are attempting to fool the veteran by circulating the rumor that a veteran registered Democratic must vote Democratic to receive the bonus.

This rumor is absolutely untrue. Your vote for the bonus is separate from the rest of the ticket, and your "X" in the block marked "Democratic" doesn't mean you've voted for the bonus.

To keep the record straight, let us remember that a Republican Representative introduced the bonus Amendment into the House in 1947 and 1949, and Republican Legislatures in both of those years and a Republican Governor gave the people of Pennsylvania the chance to vote for the bonus.

Does that make it a Democratic law? NO! It is all-Pennsylvanian!

Regardless of how you are registered — Republican or Democrat — you can vote for the bonus — Amendment A-1 — and also the Republican Ticket.

"RIGHT-WING" CIO TACKLES ITS PROBLEMS

By HAROLD W. WARD
Cleveland, Nov. 3 (AP)—The CIO turned to its mounting domestic and world-wide political chores today in the newly-acquired robes of a right-wing federation.

The role of the political action committee (PAC) in the 1950 elections was due for plenty of attention before convention adjournment because of the CIO's expressed chagrin at the failure of Congress this session to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

President Truman pledged repeal, but both House and Senate rebelled.

Expect Hot Debate
In international politics, the CIO is joining with the AFL and Labor federations abroad in creating a new labor Congress, rivaling the Soviet-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

The CIO withdrew from the WFTU last spring because it complained it was unable to check the flood of Communist propaganda in the organization.

Hot debate was expected over foreign affairs and the International move—from at least some of the left-wing leaders still sitting in the convention hall, Harry Bridges, west coast longshore leader, is one who wants to continue in the WFTU because, he says, it helps in dock strikes to have cooperation of foreign crews and long-shoremen.

"Reuther's Revolution"
Two major leftist-led unions—the United Electrical Workers and Farm Equipment Workers—were bounced out by convention action yesterday. That left 10 others to face the equally severe inspection of the 51-man executive board.

Expulsion of the UE drew a bitterly worded statement from Albert Fitzgerald, the union's president. In New York, he called the move "Walter Reuther's Revolution."

Reuther heads the United Auto Workers and was chairman of the resolutions committee here that recommended the UE be expelled.

Barkley Gets Back To Politics In Talk

Washington, Pa., Nov. 3 (AP)—The nation's best known groom-to-be, Vice President Alben W. Barkley, made his first public appearance Tuesday since announcing his engagement, and what did he talk about? Politics.

A crowd of 3,000 gathered at the skating arena in this southwestern Pennsylvania city to hear the 71-year-old Veep who had just announced his engagement to Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley.

Barkley came here in a move aimed at healing a rift among local Democrats. He said he hopes to attend the inauguration of a Democratic Governor in Pennsylvania in 1951. (This state has had only two Democratic Governors since the Civil war.)

He also urged voters at nearby Pittsburgh to cast their ballots for David L. Lawrence, Democratic National committeeman seeking reelection as mayor of Pittsburgh.

Plan Ewe Sale—Seven breeds of sheep will be represented in the fourth annual statewide bred ewe sale at the Pennsylvania State college on Friday, November 18. There will be Southdowns, Hampshire, Dorsets, Cheviots, Shropshires, Corriedales, and Suffolks.

Be Safe—Always be careful when working around the mechanical corn picker, warn Penn State extension agricultural engineers, if you don't want to be a one-armed farmer.

No Rabbit?

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—If you own a set of bathroom scales or count your calories, for heaven's sake stay away from the New York Historical society.

For any one on a diet, it's a chamber of horrors.

Here's one example — entree only — from "America's greatest game dinner" at Chicago Grand Pacific hotel in 1881:

Loin of buffalo, saddle of black bear, coot, laughing goose, cedar hen, pintail grouse, dimlin sandpiper, curlew, snipes and plover.

Farm Prices Hold To Downward Trend

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania farm prices resumed their downward trend during the month ended October 15, the state Agricultural Department reported today.

Except for September, the decline has been steady since September a year ago, the department noted.

It said the index of prices received by farmers dropped three points during the month ended October 15. Based on 1909-14 prices equaling 100, the October 15 index for all products was 258 compared with 261 on September 15, and 300 on October 15, 1948.

The department said a three-point increase in livestock and livestock prices more than offset a 19-point decline in crops.

Would Free DPI From Politics

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—The secondary education conference wants to keep the state Department of Public Instruction free of politics. The group of 300 Pennsylvania school principals, who concluded a two-day session here Tuesday adopted a resolution urging the creation of a state council of education to recommend to the Governor men or women for key offices in the department.

Under the proposed plan, the educators would select the superintendent when a vacancy exists in that office.

Named to the presidency of the state branch of the national association of secondary school principals last night was Joseph N.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The newly organized senior choir of Centenary Methodist church will sing their first anthem at the 10:30 a. m. worship service on Sunday. Other members of the congregation are invited to join the choir at the rehearsal this Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The following men of St. John's Lutheran church will be commissioned for the Every member canvass by the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, at the Thank Offering service on Sunday morning: Paul Hawk, Preston Myers, Harry O. Harner, Samuel Renner, Fred W. King, Edgar DeGroft, Charles Snyder, Harold Sparver, Clayton Harget, L. Robert Crouse, Claude Gerick, Ernest Baumgardner, Arthur Mumert, John R. Bloom, Walter Yingling, Edgar E. Yealy, Paul Hollinger, Lloyd L. Stavelly, Roy Renner, Malcolm Hess, George Streig, Preston Clousher, Donald Feaser, Edgar Wolfe, Lewis Lippy, Alvin Groft, Raymond Reed, Preston Crabbs, Noah Streig, Walter Myers, Kenneth Miller and Kenneth Bortner.

Mrs. Emma Norwood, near town, was hostess to the November meeting of the Mite society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Norwood, who is president of the group, conducted the opening devotions and also presided for the business session. Mrs. Paul Scheivert presented the secretary's report. Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim was received into membership at this meeting. Readings were given by Mrs. John M. Feaser, Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim and Mrs. Paul Scheivert. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, December 6, at a place to be announced later.

Mrs. Verdie Strain, North Queen street, returned home after spending three weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jean Bennett, in Philadelphia.

Miss Shirley Dodder was in charge of Littlestown Girl Scout Troop No. 39 on Wednesday evening in the fire hall. Eleven members of the troop were present. Mary Ann Burgoon presented the secretary's report. The group was taught folk dancing under the direction of their leader. Next meeting of the troop will be Wednesday, November 9, at 6:30 p. m. in the fire hall.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, will close the post home on Sunday from 6 to 9 p. m. Members of the post will attend the Armistice Day service in St. Paul's Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. Members of the post will participate in the Bonus parade on Monday evening. They are requested to meet at either the playground or the post home Monday at 7:30 p. m.

More Motorists Lose Licenses

Harrisburg, Nov. 3 (AP)—A record 3,387 Pennsylvanians lost their motor operator's licenses last month.

Otto F. Messner, state revenue secretary, today reported that October's total of licenses revoked or suspended surpassed the previous record of 3,224 last March. Increasing carelessness among motorists and stiff law enforcement by state police were given by Messner as reasons for the all-time high.

For the first 10 months of 1949, he added, there were 5,731 revocations and suspensions compared to 13,498 for the same period last year.

Willie Anderson won three consecutive U.S. Open golf championships in 1903, 1904 and 1905, a mark never equaled.

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.
